The Waban Public Library Association, Inc. already has an ideal site for the building, consisting of 46,000 square feet of land at the Junction of Beacon, Woodward street and Pine Ridge road. It will contain separate reading rooms for adults and children, magazine and newspaper racks and space e and newspaper racks and space 4000 volumes. "At present there is no adequate library room where we, the people of Waban, can go or send our children to enjoy quiet and comfort while reading; 2450 books now on deposit in the Angier School are ready to graduate into a higher class—a place especially prepared for them, and this is compulsory as well as expedient, for there is no longer room at the school for the library. It must move. Except for a $600 mortgage, the library already owns 46,000 square feet of land on an ideal site at the junction of Beacon street, Woodward street and Pine Ridge road. The Newton Public Library stands back of our venture, recognizing this as a branch library, and it will place at our disposal the 150,000 volumes in its stacks. NINTH INNING RALLY ONE SHY

Scoring three runs in a tenth-inning rally the Newton High team defeated the Medford high baseball team, 14 to 11, last Saturday afternoon after waging a long uphill battle ail the afternoon. It was a peculiar game with everything that could happen taking place. There was good baseball and bad baseball, smart baseball and dumb baseball, glaring errors and wonderful plays, humorous incidents and tragic incidents with both teams having their share of each.

Newton started off in the very first inning with Nichols, the first man up slapping the ball over the right field stands for a home run. With two down Fletcher drew a pass but was left stranded. In Medford's half Boyan got Reilly in a hole and poked a two-base hit into the right field stands. Ober lined to Wilson who missed a double play by a hair. Wright came through with a hot single to left to score Boyan and took second on the throw to the plate. Eddie McCarthy, Medford's star catcher, cracked one of Reilly's fast ones down the third baseline for two bases and Wright scored to put Medford in the lead. Spaulding, Medford's pitcher, fanned out but Colclough came through with a hit to score McCarthy and later stole second. Fletcher tossed out Wendell to end the inning. inning.

FIRST SCHOLASTIC MEET TOMORROW

The first interscholastic outdoor track meets of the season are scheduled for tomorrow with that of Worcester Polytechnical Institute and Boston College starting things off. In former years the Boston College meet was held the third Saturday of the month with that at Worcester the first. Newton has usually been entered in both meets in recent years and when this year's schedule was made up prior to the change in dates of the B. C. meet to the first Saturday of the month, Newton had planned to enter the Worcester contests. While the B. C. meet has attracted many of the larger schools around Greater Boston there is expected to be plenty of competition at Worcester. Foremost of Newton's competitors will be the lads from Brockton high who upset things at Andover in the indoor season.

The school that scores thirty points at Worcester schedy with the year each from Brockton high who upset things at Andover in the indoor season.

The school that scores thirty points at Worcester should win the meet and on paper it would seem that Newton and Brockton are the only two schools entered that can score that total. The orange and black apparently has a stronger outdoor team than the indoor one captained by Dick Reynolds the past winter. There is no outdoor captain but it is expected that Coach Donald Enoch will appoint one before the events start at Worcester.

The Newton mentor will depend upon his two sprint stars Ewing and Pescosolido to give Newton a big start in the point scoring. In the indoor season it will be remembered that they finished one, two in nearly every meet. If they can repeat outdoors it will aid the team materially. Dick Reynolds is the best quarter-miler in the Newton high school but the chances are he will run only in the 220-yard low hurdles, his best event. Richard Gibbs is another good quarter-miler who will bear the burden in that event. Burton and Hall are good half-milers while Chamberlain and Vincent Signore should take care of the mile in fine shape. Signore should take care of the mile still in school but recently passed his 20th birthday.

In the discus throw Coach Enoch will enter Clapp, Ham and Gill who have been tossing the plate around for the past week. All have been getting out over 90 feet in practice and it is possible that they will pass the 100 foot mark tomorrow.

In the pole vault Newton's best athlete is Jimmy Silley. He is good for about nine feet, six inches. Of the twenty-four athletes, nearly the entire squad, that the Newton coach has entered in the meet tomorrow others who may place besides those mentioned are Kilburn Adams in the 220, Quigley in the 440, and Fine in the high jump.

GAME WITH NEWTON

Newton high lost its second game of the season Wednesday afternoon when the orange and black pitching staff failed to silence the bats of the Boston College High school nine. The visitors won, 13 to 7, in a weird game which lasted over three hours. Newton had a 6 to 1 lead at the end of the fourth when Harvey started a Boston College High rally with a home run over the left field fence. During the game 21 bases on balls were issued, nine by the winning pitchers.

During the game 21 bases on balls were issued, nine by the winning pitchers.

Newton started off as though it would make a runaway of the game. Eirod drew a pass, Wilson singled and both came home on Nichols screeching triple to right centre. Fletcher singled scoring Nichols and Reilly sacrificed his captain to second. Annese fanned but Andres singled to score Fletcher for the fourth run. In the second Eirod, after drawing a pass, stealing second, reaching third on an error, scored or Nichols' single. Still another was chalked up by Eirod in the fourth. He worked Long for his third straight pass, moved to second on Wilson's bunt which the latter beat out moved to third on an out at first and came in on Fletcher's single through short.

Meanwhile Nichols, who was on the mound for Newton, was not in much trouble. In the fourth B. C. High scored its first tally when Morris, a pinch hitter, crashed out a double with men on first and second. In the fifth with one down Harvey hit his home run which was followed by three singles alternating with a walk, a strikeout and another walk for four runs, bringing the visitors within one run of a tie. Nichols gave way to Pillion before the raily had stopped. In the sixth B. C. High treated Pillion to an almost similar dose, scoring tworuns and taking the lead, 8 to 7.

B. C. High added another run to its lead in the first of the seventh on a single, an out at first, passed ball and another single. Arthur Wilson then took the mound for Newton and got by for a couple of frames with a little luck. Newton scored its final tally in the last of the seventh after two were down. Reilly was hit by the pitcher who passed Annese, hit Andres, and passed Barry to force in Reilly. Payne fanned to end the inning.

Kraber took over the pitching duties in the middle of the eighth when Wilson lost control and staved off the onslaught until the ninth when the visitors chalked up five runs.

PLAY BROOKLINE TODAY

The game between Newton and Brookline high which was originally scheduled to take place at Victory field tomorrow has been advanced to this afternoon. Coach John L. Sulivan will send Bill Reilly to the box in an effort to keep the Newton team in the lead for the Suburban league title. Newton faces Rindge next week Wednesday afternoon at Victory Field and Reilly, with four days' rest, may come back against them. Next Saturday the orange and black has another league contest on its hands at Dilboy Field, Somerville, where Coach Dickerman's boys will strive to upset the local nine.

Mr. Louis D. Gibbs gave a most interesting talk last evening on Station WEEI to members of the Blue Triangle Club. The talk was illustrated by moving pictures, and the club had a most entertaining and instructive evening. We were particularly glad to have as our guests not only Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs, but Mrs. Smith of the Finance Committee and Miss Girard of the National City Staff.

It is anticipated that at the Blue Triangle Club meeting next week there will be another illustrated lecture by a good friend of the Association. It is urged that all members of the club attend and bring with them guests for a very pleasant evening is assured.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

At least two of Governor Allen's recommendations have been fulfilled. It will be remembered that in his inaugural address he said that the State House was not an appropriate place for the storage of confiscated liquor and urged that more suitable quarters be provided. For years and years liquor seized by the State Police has been stored in the basement of the State House. The idea started long before prohibition and has been continued until this week. It will be remembered that it was the cause of scandal and other mischief. Furthermore, the practice of destroying liquor in the courtyard of the State House extension always provoked comment. The fumes would fill the entire capitol on warm days when the windows were open. On the whole it had a depressing if not a demoralizing effect. When Governor Allen came out in his address last January and said what he did there were not a few laughs in the gathering. The subject seemed to strike some people as funny. But the Governor was in earnest and he found that his suggestion was taken seriously, too. This week the State Police took over a huge storehouse on Columbus avenue. Boston, where proper fittings have been established to safeguard the confiscated liquors. The best part of it is that the State House is free from what is really a necessary but an unpleasant feature of police work.

The other reform urged by the Governor was that affecting the operating license of an automobile driver involved in a fatal accident while under the influence of liquor. In his inaugural address the Governor said that it might be well if such a driver, after he had been found guilty by the court, was permanently deprived of a license to drive. The Legislature agreed with the Governor that something should be done, although it was not willing to go as far as he had suggested. Therefore, a bill was passed providing that an operator convicted in connection with a fatal accident while under the influence of liquor should lose his right to drive for 10 years. On second conviction the license

The bill to increase from 28 feet to 33 the length of auto trucks and busses and their width from 96 to 102 inches is one of the most important measures of the year. Senator Hollis was one of its opponents in the upper branch which passed the bill to be engrossed by 24 to 4. Senator Hollis contended the need of more safety measures should have precedence over anything that would allow larger busses and trucks on the highways. Friends of the bill argued that neighboring States have already permitted larger vehicles than Massachusetts and sought to point out that the changes in methods of transportation demand larger conveyances.

eration of a vote at the same session at which a vote is taken. This means that the General Court is beginning to speed up matters in the hope of accomplishing the final adjournment about the middle or latter part of this month.

The fact that the Charles River Basin improvement bill as redrafted by the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs omitted the extension of the boulevard along the Charles River from Maple street, which is now the Watertown end, to Galen street, Watertown, caused considerable disappointment. Representative Arnold Leonard of Watertown got speakers at the hearing before the House Ways and Means Committee to admit that there was no objection to having this provision restored. Senator Fish of the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs said it had been left out of the redraft because it was felt that it was not essential.

The Senate on Wednesday referred to the next annual session the bill providing for the construction of a parkway from the junction of Newton and Hammond streets in the town of Brookline to Beacon street, Newton. Senator Hollis tried to get the Senate to overide the report of the Committee on Ways and Means which recommended reference to next year. He said that the construction of the parkway would relieve a dangerous situation. By a rising vote of 15 to 6 the bill was referred to next year. This is one of the few bills of vital local interest to Newton presented this year. to the next annual session the

The Mather Class

Prof. Kirtley F. Mather was back last Sunday morning, after a week's absence, at the Mather Class at its regular weekly meeting at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House.

Prof. Mather concluded his reading of selected portions of the modern epic poem, "John Brown's Body." This very modern poem is rather a stupendous work. Prof. Mather felt that it was so important as well as so remarkable a piece of literature that he has devoted a total of three full regular meetings of the Class to a consideration and detailed analysis of the poem. The treatment of the subject was largely by means of a reading by Prof. Mather of such passages as brought out the high lights and emotional thrills of the poem.

At last Sunday's session he read several selections of great human interest, which made those dark Civil War days live again in vivid style.

A particularly fine pen portrait of War days live again in vivid style.

A particularly fine pen portrait of Stonewall Jackson at the time of his death showed the man and the General as he appeared to his men and his commander. General Lee wrote that Jackson had lost his left arm but he had lost his right arm. This beautiful tribute was well brought out in the poem.

The terrible conditions of life were shown in livid style, like eating cats and mice and drinking tea made from bark.

There was a delightfully human touch when Pickett's son was born. The Southerners burned a long line of brushwood bonfires by way of celebration. When General Grant heard the news, he ordered bonfires for the little Pickett. Later, when Richmond fell and Abraham Lincoln visited the city, he stopped for a brief call at Pickett's home. He introduced himself to Mrs. Pickett merely as an old friend of George Pickett.

The terrific slaughter of those awful times was dramatically contrasted with the reckless abandon of the youthful combatants. A Southerner came out from his lines to get the chaplain's hat that had blown off. He nonchalantly told the Yanks not to shoot him and explained his errand in debonair fashion. They refrained. A lieutenant swam a river and enjoyed an evening of fun and frolic with friends on the other side. Then he swam back. Next day he went gaily into battle with his hosts of the night before. The topsy-turry world of war had full opportunity to show all its vagaries in our Civil War, and here the author has gathered together a multitude of straws which show how fitfully the wind blew through those tangled times.

An aide-de-camp is shown passing along and noticing General Lee alone in his tent. Lee had some papers but his thoughts were far from them. Long and silently the young officer watched his beloved leader and finally went on his way with the remark to himself, "It doesn't seem as if a cause could lose when it is believed in by a man like that".

At another time, when things got very desperate indeed, Lee started to lead the charge in person and was met by a perfect hurricane of shouts from his men to go to the rear.

The sombre picture of a terrible war is varied by a light and lilting bit of poetry which might be called a negro melody—Jubilee, jubilow—rejoicing over Sherman's triumphal march from Atlanta to the sea, when every darky should own a mule and freedom should come to all. It really should be sung by a big bunch of rollicking, hilarious negroes just bubbling over with good s least use to an army. Where once there had been smiling plenty, now there was utter ruin. Sheridan said that if a crow wanted

The April meeting of the Newton Historical Society was held on Monday evening last, at the home of Mrs. Frank H. Damon on Church street. The formal addresses of the evening were given by Mayor Edwin O. Childs and Dr. Charles H. Bangs of Swampscott, one of the most prominent names in the patriotic and historical societies of New England, and a delightful speaker. He gave an illuminating address upon "What We Celebrate and Why."

The Society received the first gift of the season, in a large piece of a limb from the famous old oak tree in the South Natick Square under which the apostle John Eliot preached to the Natick Indians. The tree is dead and pieces from it are sought easerly by those interested in local history.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Next week will mark the opening of the new buildings at the Newton Hospital. How many people will look back at the years and years of struggle, personal sacrifice and community effort required to make that noble institution possible. Instead of monument to an individual or group of individuals, it stands as an exemplification of what citizens of all classes can do when united for a splendid purpose. Its growth from a siple structure to the large and extensive institution has been made possible through the highest motive of human kind—aid to the stricken and help for the poor.

I know of nothing in this city which has produced among our citizens a more general willingness to give support to a worthy cause. The people possessed of more than ample means have been generous in the extreme, while those in modest or humble circumstances have been glad to deprive themselves in order to make countributions. Organizations have been formed solely for the purpose of raising money for the hospital. From these and other sources have embe funds while doctors, nurses and hospital workers have given long hours and untiring labor to the same end. Over the more than 10 years which have passed since the hospital was founded you will find spread the true spirit of Newton people, doing something for the city that has a deeper significance than material prosperity.

I was a small boy when I heard the significance than material deeper significance than material prosperity.

I was a small boy when I heard the Reverend George Wolfe Shinn, D.D., tell of the days when he enlisted the efforts of several substantial citizens in establishing the hospital. As I recall it he was summoned in the middle of the night to the bedside of a woman member of the parish. She was gravely ill and needed care that could not be provided where she lived. Both the physician and Dr. Shinn saw at that time the vision which is a reality today. They said to each other that nothing should be left undone to provide the people of Newton a place where their sick could be tended and made well again. What they and others did provides some of the best pages of Newton's history.

The entire city caught up the idea

There was nothing he could do that evening but pass away the time until 9 o'clock or so, then tumble in, get some sleep and hop out early in the morning when he could see the roads—an important part of his mission.

My friend tried to shake the talka-

The writer of the complaint found fault with the apparent carelessness of somebody responsible. He did not hold it against the Post-office Department but insisted that somebody was negligent.

However, this element of suspense does make for increased interest and individual responsiveness, and is therefore, ex-cellent for Club progress. Following this there will be a program of an Author's Reading by Miss Alice Ran-lett, a Club member, and a member of lett, a Club member, and a member of the Boston Author's Club. The day will close with enjoyment of the president's gracious hospitality.

An announcement, that is sure to cause Clubwomen to desire to attend, is the coming of Mrs. Azel A. Packard, president of the State Federation, and Mrs. Irving O. Both are sure to have worthwhile messages, and all Newton Clubwomen are aware of Mrs. Palmer's sense of humor that so adds to her remarks.

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Y. M. t. C. A. is to have a most interesting day on Wednesday, May 8th, in ending their Club year with Annual Meeting, and Luncheon at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House, corner of Centre and Beacon streets, which courtesy is graciously proffered by the Newton Centre Club. At 12 o'clock there will be an Executive Board Meeting, presided over by the president, Mrs. Edwin S. Drowne. At 1 o'clock, luncheon will be served, tickets for which may be obtained by all Clubwomen who would like to share in this social occasion, at 75 cents each. Mrs. A. W. Muther is chairman of this hospitality. There will be a short business meeting, with reports on the outstanding accomplishments of the year—and they have been many and worthwhile—by officers and chairmen, that should be of value to hearers, that they may learn more of this splendid enterprise for the welfare of the young people of Newton.

The program of the afternoon is an The Woman's Auxiliary to the Y. M

The program of the afternoon is an unusually attractive offering, including readings by Miss Flora Bosson, a graduate of Leland Powers School, and vocal selections by Mrs. Robert B. Chapin, accompanied by Mrs. Willard Eaton.

All who would like to join in this day of pleasure are cordially invited to do so.

Shakespeare Club

The Annual Meeting of the Shake-speare Club of Newton Highlands wil be held on Saturday, May 11th, at 2:15 o'clock, at the home of Miss Edith M. McCann, of 231 Upland avenue. Club members have been requested to come prepared to say a few words on Shakespeare, his personality or his work, that especially appealed to them, or to read some bit that they have seen in print that pleased them about the master dramatist. This is an opportunity for originality and variation that should be most entertaining to all. A reception and tea will conclude the day, after the election of officers and the program.

STATE FEDERATION

RADIO Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole RADIO Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, first vice-president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will broadcast on the topic "The Club Women's Invasion," from WNAC next Wednesday morning, May 8th, at 16 o'clock—the new time for Federation session. Alice Allen Drayton, Pianist former Music chairman of the State Federation, may be heard at 10:10 in musical interpretations, and Mrs.

Federation, may be heard at 10:10 in musical interpretations, and Mrs. Philip H. Tirrell, Eighth District director, has a message at 10:20 on "Foundation Stones."

Both titles of the talks are curiosity provoking and snappy, and Clubwomen will do well to listen in. Just what Mrs. Poole means by "invasion" is sure to be given in a humorous vein that will be entertaining.

CAPE COD COTTAGE. The delightful surprise promised by Mrs. Henry M. Chamberlain, chairman of the Art Committee, is "out," and Clubwomen, especially those who have the joy in prospect of fitting up of a Summer cottage, be it on Cape Cod or elsewhere, should avail themselves of the opportunity provided thereby, for the pleasure of beholding a "work of art," or for ideas in their Summer home that is to be "a joy forever." Gilchrist Company, Boston, cordially invites inspection of the Cape Cod Cottage completely decorated by the Art Committee, the "model" being on the seventh floor of its furniture department. Serving with Mrs. Chamberlain on this committee, and decorating this Summer home are Mrs. Roy C. Baker, Mrs. Walter D. Baker, Mrs. A. C. Cooper, Mrs. Henry M. Dewing, Mrs. Royal D. Farnum, Mrs. William Greenwood, Mrs. Hubbard B. Mansfield, Mrs. Katherine Osborne, Mrs. Frank I. Preston, Mrs. Joseph Reynolds, and Mrs. Warren Sherburne.

MUSIC WEEK. The "fine arts"

MUSIC WEEK. The "fine arts" are indeed coming into their own in claiming the news forefront at this time, for with the exhibition of the interior decorating of a cottage, also comes a plea from Mrs. Amy Young Burns, chairman of Music for the State Federation, for a general and Club interest in the observance of Music Week which comes May 5th to IIth. Mrs. Burns, who has planned a very pretentious celebration at the Annual Meeting in the Choral Festival, gives most fittingly as her slogan: "Hear Music, Make Music, Enjoy Music," and she quotes Longfellow, with his appealing words: "God sent His singers upon earth with songs of sadness and of mirth, that they might touch the hearts of men and bring them back to Heaven again," which surely should catch the interest and attention of her Club audience. She believes that all should take active participation in music in addition to listening to it, and that such increase in music-making makes for a stabuizin music-making makes for a stabulating influence upon family and community life. To this end she urged more music in the home; intelligent support of school music, so linking home and school; more participation of young people of the churches in the music of church worship and work; vocal and instrumental music among employees of stores and factories, and more music among Clubs, theatres, institutions, and other groups. She particularly stresses the giving of American music upon Club programs.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Science Club was held at the Brae Burn Country Club, on Wednesday, April 24th.

The Commonwealth Country Club was the scene of the 49th Annual Meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, over the arrangements of which Mrs. D. Earl Brackett was chairman.

The business meeting opened at 11:30 a. m., with the president, Mrs. Robert G. Howard, and Mrs. Willam G. Lennox; recording secretary, Joseph A. Otis, in the chair. Mrs. George H. Jackson, recording secretary, gave a splendid resume of the year's programs and also of the social activities of the Club, Mrs. Jackson spoke of the pageant, "The Quest of the Holy Grail," and the turkey supper as the two outstanding efforts of the Club for the year.

Mrs. Ernest Robinson, corresponding secretary, then read her report, which was cleverly written in poetry, and as Mrs. Robinson goes out of office, Mrs. Cunningham stepped forward at the close of Mrs. Robinson's report, and presented her with a beautiful bouquet of flowers. Mrs. Cunningham made a very fitting speech thanking Mrs. Robinson, in behalf of the Club, for her uniting services during her tenure of office.

The treasurer, Mrs. Charles Anderson, then gave a very satisfying re-

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands
This is certainly the season when Women's Clubs are saying "Au Revoir" to Club activities and members are turning their thoughts to the many allurements of mother nature.
The Woman's Club of Newton Highlands did so on Tuesday, the 23rd of April, after completing another happy year, filled with many interesting and progressive events, as was related to the members through the snappy and brilliant reports of the officers and chairmen of the many club committees.

Preceding the Annual Meeting, over one hundred and fifty Club members met for luncheon, which was prepared and served by the American Home, Social, and Hospitality Committees, with Mrs. Albion Brown as chairman.

Mrs. Will Travis Laverty, assisted by her committee was in charge of the decorating, which past experiences indicated would be so artistically the second of the decoration.

Winslow, who formerly conducted a store in Watertown came to Newtonville about December 1927 and started a variety store. Soon afterwards he petitioned for a common victualler license, desiring to keep the store open Sundays. The Licenses Committee of the Aldermen last year adopted the policy of granting common victualler licenses only to lunch rooms, and shops which confined their business exclusively to the sale of ice-cream, beverages and candy. The committee refused to grant new licenses to variety stores, fruit stores, or stores selling groceries. Winslow's petition was turned down by the committee and the Board sustained the committee. Mr. Woodcock said that James C. Irwin of the Newtonville Improvement Association, and Drs. Howard and Thayer favor the granting of the license. The Ward 2 alderman contended that Winslow's store is similar to those which have had common victualler license from years and that he should be granted license since the other stores have been given renewals on their licenses. Editor, Newton Graphic:

Dear Sir:

Yesterday noon the police ambulance came down Washington street and was speeded through the one way section (going the prohibited direction) by the Newton Trust Company building at a speed estimated to be about 30 miles an hour. Supposing some automobile was coming around from Centre street at this time and made the turn onto Washington street on pass the Trust Company building just as the ambulance whirled by. The city would refuse, in all probability, to pay any damages either for a smashed car or for killing or maining whoever might be in the car, had it been hit. It is not impossible, if precedent were followed, that the city might bring suit against the driver of the car hit, should a collision have occurred.

NEWTON'S BATTING DEFEATS RINDGE

Fifteen hits for a total of twenty-six bases enabled the Newton high team to defeat Rindge Technical school in a Suburban league baseball game on Victory field Wednesday afternoon, 14 to 6. Johnny Mullen and Captain Allie Fletcher were the hardest hitters. The former got a single, triple and home run for his afternoon's work with the triple coming with the bases filled and two down. His home run was with one man on. Fletcher tripled in the first inning with two on.

Bartlett Nichols was on the moun Bartlett Nichols was on the mound for Newton and was also touched for fifteen hits but only a scant half dozen were of the solid variety. Normille was credited with a triple when Elrod misjudged his sock to centre field and allowed the ball to go over his head. The remainder of Rindge's hits were accompanied by a lot of luck, several falling safely in the short outfield. The visitors could not hit Nichols' speed squarely.

This tournament has 2 entries each from all private and public secondary schools in Mass., and Newton is looking forward to a fine showing from its boys.

struct one's vision. A large percentage of accidents on roads are occasioned by such trucks.

Any person who has operated a car on the highways realizes the danger caused by the operation on our principal highways of big buses which speed along 50 or more miles an hour and which have repeatedly crowded ordinary automobiles off the roads causing fatal accidents. Notwithstanding this, our august legislators have decided to increase these menaces by allowing them to be considerably longer, and wider. And this in the face of all the pleas and campaigns to make our highways safer and lessen the appalling death rate.

The argument offered in favor of this bill was that "many other States allow vehicles 32 feet long and 8½ feet wide to be operated on highways." Massachusetts has won an enviable reputation in the past by enacting progressive legislation. The present Legislature apparently believes in retrogressive legislation, in making our highways less safe for humanity. Probably some day it may occur to a future Legislature that the proper thing to do is to legislate "freight cars" and "express trains" off our trunk line highways and compel them to have their own right of ways. The railroads, against which these buses and big trucks are competing are compelled to operate their vehicles on private ways.

The redraft of the bill to improve the Charles River basin as reported by the Senate Ways and Means Committee, provides for the building of "a section of parkway or boulevard beginning at a point in Nonantum road in the city of Newton at or near Hyde Brook, thence over public or private lands and public or private ways in said city of Newton and in the town of Watertown to a point on Galen street in said town of Watertown at or near its intersection with California street." meeting the subject of this Conterence was "Recreation."

After an informal luncheon, served by leaders of the Scouts, the Chairman, Mrs. Marshall, introduced Mr. Bruce, Executive of the Boy Scouts.

Since the pressure of school work and the tendency of the times are so tiring to the youth of today, the Scout ideal is to provide relaxation to the nerves through out-door life. Their two week-end reservations at Dover and the Nobscot Reservation, recently acquired at Sudbury enable the boys to obtain this and April 1st to December 31st last year the equivalent of 2500 days enjoyed and 1500 nights there. A summer camp at Mashpee, Cape Cod, also gives opportunity for out-door life and healthful recreation. Miss Freeman, Girl Scout Executive, told of the work at Camp Mary Day.

In popular usage the word "pea-cock" is applied to any individual bird of the peafowl family, whether it is male or female. It is more accurate to speak of the birds in general as peafowls, and call the males peacocks and the females peahens when it is desirable to indicate the sex.

A pine tree brings forth many seeds but among the millions that it scat-ters over the mountainside perhaps but one may survive—treasured, say, by a squirrel, stored underground, springing to life when the uncertain-ties of existence deprive the squirrel

Charles Wesley, it is said, wrote 6,000 hymns, but from this 6,000 probably but one has assurance of imp tality—"Jesus Lover of My Soul." Wordsworth was prodigious in sonnets but of the thousands he drafted he published but a few more than 450 and of these less than half a dozen have taken root in popular memory. La Farge burned many of his drawings, left between 50,000 and 60. 000, and some critics say he will be fortunate if one of them be remem-bered a few hundred years from now. Raphael painted scores of madonnas doubtless sketched hundreds that he never painted, and the world really treasures two—the "Sistine Madon-na," and "Madonna della Sedia," The "Sistine," it might be remarked, was not thought much of at the time of its painting, a critic then dismissing it with four lines of comment.—Detroit News.

Legal Knots Untied by Chinese Solomon

In a village near Peking, China, four tradesmen clubbed together to buy coton. To protect it from rats they pro cured a cat, and agreed that each of them owned one of the animal's legs. Soon afterwards the cat hurt one of its paws, and the owner of that par-ticular leg bound it up with a rag sonked in oil. But the cat went too near the fire, the bandage ignited, and the terrified animal rushed amongst the bales of cotton, which flared up and were destroyed.

The three owners of the uninjured legs sued their partner for loss and damages. The judge ruled thus:

—About 6:15 Wednesday evening an automobile turning the corner of Summer and Chestnut streets collided with the hydrant there snapping it off at its base immediately causing a geyser, trout brook, and a general washout on the line down Chestnut and Boylston streets to the river. The volume of water swept the dirt sidewalks before it filling the street and car tracks with stones and mud. Until the water main could be shut off, the Chestnut Hill car was held up in the flood and many cars were considerably watered as they passed through. The water department is to be commended for the quick and efficient work rendered in putting in a new hydrant before morning so that the residents of Chestnut street could again have use of their water supply. The new hydrant has a valve at its base which controls the shut off. This supplants the old one which had been on that corner for over a quarter of a century.

The Mather Class

Prof. Kirtley F. Mather started the consideration of a recent book at the regular weekly meeting of the Mather Class, last Sunday morning, at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House. This book is entitled "A Preface to Morals," by Walter Lippman. The author, Mr. Lippman, is not a religious moralist, but rather a newspaper man, a reporter, and man of paper man, a reporter, and man of affairs. He brings unusual ability to bear on his survey of the subject of morals.

Prof. Mather used this book as the basis for his address. He read portions of significant importance, explained and interpreted what was not quite clear, and corrected what needed In a discussion of morals the initial corrections.

In a discussion of morals the initial study is naturally concerning God. What do men believe about God? What we do depends on what we believe. Some people have abondoned their old beliefs. Some are indifferent. Others have cast out their old ideas and now realize that there is a vacancy in their lives that needs filling. When people lived under a monarchy, it was most natural to think of God as a King on high, with a throne, a crown, a sceptre, and a seraphic retinue. From this lofty eminence he handed down rewards and punishments. This celestial background beyond the clouds is receiving some modification, for man's spiritual life demands a personal relationship in order to uphold goodness, truth, and beauty.

Religion is founded on what the believers feel are undoubted facts which are not beyond human experience.

believers feel are undoubted facts which are not beyond human experience.

Another idea, quite different, is that God is unapproachable and unfathomable and that man is altogether unable to comprehend God.

For desert people it was vivid and comprehensible to compare God to a rock, for a big rock cast a grateful shadow, where it was cooler than out in the blazing sunshine. This comparison does not have the same value with people far from a desert. Many people accept their beliefs on the sayso of some one else. They do not probe deeply into the foundations of their belief. We do not need a rock in a desert land, for we seldom visit the desert. That has no meaning for us except as we have inherited a meaning from ancestral nomadic shepherds. Electro-magnetism is a whole lot more important to us. We need electricity just as, for a very different purpose, the desert people needed the great rock. We may, therefore, appropriately compare God to electricity in its various manifestations, because electricity has a meaning for us. We cannot see it but we have seen it operate. We believe in it and we have some information about it. It plays an important part in our lives. As a firmly established reality, any test which we can apply to our concept of God. Both are realities, inherently unknowable and quite mysterious, but, nevertheless, firmly established realities. Each man has a different idea of God. Faith is, therefore, difficult for modern man.

It is hard for finite man to grasp the idea of on infinite and mysterious.

HURT IN AUTÓ SMASH

Another collision of automobiles at the wide open intersection of Commonwealth avenue and Auburn street, Auburndale occurred at 8.45 a. m., last Friday. This intersection, like that at the avenue and Chestnut streets, affords clear views from all approaches, but collisions occur there frequently, proving that someone is to blame. Cars driven by George Ewing of Cedar street, Wellesley, and Carl Johnson of Lake avenue, Natick, came together. Samuel Butler, 58, of Milton avenue, West Newton, who was riding with Ewing, was severely injured. He was taken to the Newton Hospital.

The same night Troop 24 spent at Cedar Hill, where they had a most interesting experience in meeting a Lone Troop from Cape Elizabeth, Maine, also spending the night there. These girls, 23 of them, had earned the money for a trip to Washington for which they had chartered a bus, and spent a night going and coming at Cedar Hill; both times Newton Scouts met them and found them very enthusiastic about Washington and Scoutsh ave in common.

Miss Edith M. A most interesting plan for this portion of the meeting is the request made of members that they come prepared to presents something on "Shakespeare" in illustration of what appeals especially to them either in his character or in his writings, this to be original remarks or reading bits of printed items about this dramatist and his plays. This departure from a set program always makes for entertainment and interest, in the unexpected.

Florence Crittenton League

Members of the Newton Circle and of the Florence Crittenton League and all Clubwomen who aid in their work will be interested in the announcement that the Annual Conference of Florence Crittenton Homes in the United States will be held at Washington, D. C., from May 19th to 21st, and it is anticipated as one of the most interesting Conferences in this work in recent years. Doubtless many Newton women will wish to attend, and enjoy a trip-to Washington at this pleasant season.

Mr. Clarence R. Preston, general secretary of the Boston Florence Crittenton work; Mrs. Fanny McMaster, secretary of the Protective Department; Mrs. Marjorie Sanderson, supervisor of case work at Maternity Home and Hospital and Miss Gwendoline Albee, whom Clubwomen know as former State chairman of Press, now educational secretary of the Boston work are the official delerates from Miss Albee will be a speaker on the program Sunday, May 19th. The Grace Dodge Hotel is the official Headquarters for the Conference. There will be many prominent men and women as speakers at the various sessions and luncheons.

General Federation

BIENNIAL COUNCIL. Clubwomen are herewith given notice that the policy of delegates' tickets for the Council Meeting to be held at the New Ocean House, Swampscott, from May 27th to June 1st, is not that to which they are accordingly. Unlike the State Federation meetings, no tickets will be given out for the General Federation Council, but each Massachusetts woman, on her arrival at Swampscott, must first of all register and obtain from the Credentials Committee, at the Newy Ocean House, the badge which will admit her to Convention Hall, either as a visiting Clubwoman, or as a delegate from her Club. In order to obtain this badge she MUST show her Club membership ticket.

Each Club is entitled to but one delegate, and this presumably will be the president, but any Clubwomen may attend sessions after obtaining her badge as above directed.

As the various dining-rooms at the New Ocean House will be in use for special luncheons at the Council, the facilities for serving the $1 luncheon, usually offered at the New Ocean House, during the State meeting, will be much curtailed. Therefore, the management will have on sale, Tuesday, May 28th, at the bathhouse, box luncheons for 75 cents. If the demand warrants it, this service will be continued throughout the Council.

Though the formal opening of the Council does not come until Tuesday, May 28th, Monday will be filled with important meetings for special groups. The first will be a Conference of State presidents, with Department chairmen, with Miss Emily Louise Plumley, of Connecticut, and Mrs. Saidie Orr Dunbar, of Oregon, presiding. At noon, the State directors will have a luncheon, with a Board meeting to follow. In the evening will come the Massachusetts State Federation dinner. This is an invitation affair, given in honor of the General Federation officers. Mrs. Frank H. Stewart, of Newton, General Federation chairman of Civic Art, will have charge of this as well as of the other State dinners, and has a Committee of seven, to assist her; of which two are Newton women, namely, Mrs. Henry I. Harriman, president of the Social Science Club of Newton; and Mrs. Ward I. Cornell, president of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club.

The only Massachusetts women attending this will be those in General Federation officers, and the speakers will include Mrs. John F. anvil chorus.

But we were speaking of Massachusetts courts. Whether their presiding trustices make mistakes or not the courts are conducted with a respect for the law which they are supposed to uphold and after all that is more than may be said of the courts of some states. Take this New York case for instance. It was nothing short of a circus with flashlight photographs and other features that may have been harmless enough but which were far from dignified and which made the administration of justice look ridiculous. I find I am getting into the class of those who, without authority, make comments on judges. But I submit that this New York performance has shown that the judges were willing to permit things to go on that in Massachusetts would never be tolerated. Then let us congratulate ourselves on courts which maintained a high standard of deportment regardless of the public taste for exhibitions of vaudeville or drama.

It is too late for this year's Legislature to make any changes in the State laws covering the enforcement of the 18th amendment to the Federal constitution but the "wets" will make an effort to have next year's General Court act to repeal what is referred to as the "Baby Volstead Law." They have chosen the strongest weapon that the constitution of Massachusetts provides them and that is an initiative petition. petition.

vides them and that is an initiative petition.

This year has shown what an initiative petition may bring about. We have Sunday professional baseball which we would never have had if it had not been that the Constitutional Convention of Massachusetts of 10 years ago put through, with the approval of the voters, the so-called initiative and referendum amendment to the constitution. Under this the Legislature may decline to pass the act petitioned for but then, with the addition of more signatures, the question goes to the people. You saw what happened in the matter of professional baseball on Sunday. The General Court refused but the petitioners were able to have the question placed on the ballot at the State election last Fall and a majority of the voters approved.

It makes one feel proud of Massachusetts courts after reading of the vandeville stunts that were recently pulled off before a magistrate in New York City. Instead of the dignity that is expected to surround the administration of justice here was a regular show, with the defendant the central figure. It wasn't as much justice as it was a lot of stage business that provided splendid publicity for the person who if guilty should have been severely reprimanded through a fine or imprisonment.

I recall what a prominent man once severely reprimanded through a fine or imprisonment.

Mrs. Louise Hale of 14 Wessex road, Newton Centre, was fined $100 in the Newton court last Friday when found guilty of furnishing a firearm to a minor under 15 years of age. Her son, Jesse Hale, Jr., was placed on probation for a year when found guilty of discharging a firearm across another person's property. The police charged young Hale, who is 12 years old, with discharging a 22 calibre rife across the yard of Charles Clifford of 21 Irving road. The builet went through a garage window and smashed the windshield of Mr. Clifford's automobile.

Mrs. Hale testified that her family moved recently to this city from Philadelphia where boys are allowed to use firearms and even have gun-clubs. It was contended that it was another been said year worm.

Judge Weston ordered this boy brought into court on May 10. Because of the fact that the use of firearms by minors has recently caused the death of one boy in Newton and the blinding of another boy, it is evident that the judges in the local court will be severe in cases where minors use firearms illegally.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Last week President Ira Roe and Vice President George Martin of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, to-gether with Mayor Childs, held a three gether with Mayor Childs, held a three hours conference with Postmaster Charles Gow on the postal situation in this city. Much disatisfaction still exists over the new method which has centralized the receiving of mails at Newton Centre, and the distribution there of the mail matter for delivery in the other Newtons. There is also more or less disatisfaction over the despatching of mail from the other Newtons to the Newton Centre office instead of direct despatches as heretofore.

The Newton delegation found Post The Newton delegation found Post-master very courteous and willing to co-operate so far as he is able in giv-ing satisfactory service to this city. Mr. Gow called nine of his assistants into the conference and promised to investigate the complaints made to him.

Although the late John T. Joyce of Thornton street, Newton, was a man of quiet disposition, a man who never sought social or political honors, few residents of this city enjoyed more popularity than did he. The soul of honor, generous to a fault, many knew him as a real friend and mourn his passing.

The traffic officers at Nonantum square state that the frame work on the new traffic tower is so wide that it impedes their view, particularly on the corner facing towards Watertown. A slot should be cut in this corner to allow proper vision for the men directing traffic.

The oozy tar on our streets these days during the first weeks in May does not cheer autoists over the prospects for June and July. Until Newton replaces tarred macadamized street surfaces with modern cement roadways, or until the present method of pouring tar on the streets in the early Spring is discontinued, automobiles will continue to become smeared with tar and the sticky stuff will continue to be carried into houses to spoil rugs and floors.

SUBURBAN LEAGUE STANDING INTERSCHOLASTICS NEWTON

The Newton high track team, through the efforts of Bob Ewing and Carl Pescosolido, tied for second place in Class B of the annual state championship interscholastic meet at the Harvard stadium last Saturday. Brockton High, winner of the indoor title, annexed the outdoor honors with a well-balanced team scoring 20½ points. The Shoe City team did not score one first place but had the team balance to figure in the point division in every event except the half-mile run. Newton high scored 14 points as did Lawrence. The orange and black took two firsts and two fourths. Ewing was the star performer, not only for Newton high but of the entire Class B division of the meet. He won two first places, the dash and the broad jump for ten of the fourteen points. Pescosolido placed fourth in both the dash and the shotput.

both the dash and the shotput.

Being limited to but one track and one field event handicapped the Newton high team to some extent but probably not much more than it did any other team. Ewing would probably have scored points in the 220 had he been able to enter.

Ewing was clocked in 10 2/5 seconds in his semi-final heat in the 100-yard dash which equalled the meet record. He won his trial heat under wraps and had little trouble in breaking the tape in the final. Pescosolido was second in his trial heat and won the second semi-final in 10 4/5 seconds.

Ewing's best effort in the broad jump was 21 feet 4 inches which was good enough to win by a half foot.

Pescosolido tossed the shot 43 feet 11 inches for a fourth which brought the orange and black total to fourteen points.

Dick Reynolds qualified in the hurdles by taking second in the fourth heat but failed to get into the point division in the finals.

Charles Hall was fifth in the first heat of the 880-yard run and Arthur Chamberlain was third in the second heat but neither had fast enough time to place them in the points.

Bill Floring won second place for Huntington in the hurdles at the annual New Hampshire interscholastic meet last Saturday. In the prep school half of the meet Hebron academy was the victor with Huntington second. Last Friday afternoon our Lady High school of Newton defeated the Immaculate Conception High of Revere on the Cabot Park diamond in a Greater Boston Catholic High school league game, 10 to 9. A four run rally in the eighth inning turned almost certain defeat into victory. Going into the last of this frame two runs behind singles by McArdle and Gallagher, and a hit batsman (O'Neil) filled the bases. Ray Sampson, Our Lady High pitcher, rapped a stinging two-base hit into right centre to score two runs and tie the count. An error in centrefield on Granzow's smash enabled O'Neil and Sampson to score. The visitors tallied one run in the first of the ninth but Sampson tightened in the pinch to clinch the victory. NEWTON HOSPITAL

On Sunday afternoon, May 12, when the New building was open for in-spection, more than three thousand people were shown through it by Trus-tees, Doctors, and members of the graduate staff, and pupil nurses who acted as guides.

Two pairs of woolen mittens, and a pair of sealskin mittens reaching half way to our elooms complete the costume."

One day, so clad, a group of them started to walk to the "Bight." After walking goose-step fashion through the snow for four miles they decided to build a fire and cook the supper they had brought with them, but the eggs froze in the frying pan instead of frying; their sandwiches were like boards; and a bottle of olives, which had been brought all the way from the Newton Hospital, and saved for a special treat, were frozen solid. The appearance just then of dog teams was hailed with enthusiasm, and a ride home on a dog sled made a happy ending to a wintry plcnic.

The hospital at St. Anthony is a modern building, but of course much of the nurses' work takes them out into the homes: humble fishermen's cottages, lacking all the comforts and conveniences which we consider necessities. But the visiting nurses, who are regarded as ministering angels, feel amply repaid for all the hardships of northern life by the gratitude of the people, and the knowledge that this mission hospital means health, and even life itself, to that part of the country.

KIWANIS CLUB

The weekly meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club was called to order on Thesday, May 14th, at the Auburndale Club by President Walter Whalin. A large attendance of members and several guests turned out to hear Superintendent Wheeler of the Newton Schools, who is a member of the Newton Club discuss Newton's school building program. Superintendent Wheeler showed the difficulties which had to be met and surmounted because of Newton's extensive territory, comprising several separate communities, and spoke interestingly of the demands which a rapidly increasing population is making on the school

W. S. Wagner, chairman of the Program Committee, received a warm welcome upon his return from an extended trip through the West. Will L. White, first vice-president and manager of Norumbega Park, received the felicitations of his fellow members on the occasion of his 35th birthday. Announcement was made at the meeting of the plans for the 13th annual convention of Kiwanis International which will be held at Milwaukee, June 23 to 27th. The program as outlined calls for particular attention to child welfare work, vocational guidance and placement for students, farm problems, citizenship, naturalization of immigrants and general education. A tentative program for the convention announces the following speakers for the sessions: Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, on "Agriculture". Hon. William Renick Riddell, of Toronto, justice of the supreme court of Ontario, on "Citizenship", and Dr. C. P. Segard, of New York City, on "Vocational Guidance". Dr. Preston Bradley, of the People's Church, of Chicago, will be the speaker at a religious musicale to be given on Sunday evening, June 23. United States Senator Henry J. Allen, of Kansas, will probably be the speaker on "Business Standards".

Plans are being made for the largest convention in the history of Kiwanis. Milwaukee is easily accessible by train, automobile, steamship, and airplane and club officers are doing everything to promote a large attendance.

THRILLING MEET WON BY BROOKLINE

Prior to the meet the orange and black were favored to win but the Brookline performers came through to eke out the meet. The bill authorizing the construction of a parkway of boulevard from Newton and Hammond streets in Brookline to Beacon street this city has gone through the Senate and is now in the Ways and Means Committee of the House.

The Senate rejected the House bill giving preference to labor of veterans and citizens in the construction, addition to and alteration of certain public works. Senator Hollis, on roll-call, voted against this bill.

Although passed by the House the Senate has referred to the next annual session a bill which would have affected home-owners in that it required the installation of a safety device designed to prevent explosions of boilers, heaters, tanks, etc., used for domestic purposes.

The interests of Middlesex county and therefore that of Newton are being ably protected before the special commission created to apportion the cost of the Cottage Farm bridge. Lowel A. Mayberry is counsel for Middlesex county and is making a vigorous fight to keep this county's share just and proper.

Bette Davis, a former Newton girl is receiving unstinted praise from the dramatic critics of Boston for her interpertation of the character of "Hedvig" in Ibsen's play "The Wild Duck" at the Plymouth Theatre in Boston. ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Many persons residing along Centre street are complaining about the noise made by heavy automobile trucks. These big vehicles commence to rumble along this street as early as 6 o'clock mornings and during the day the noise from them and also the vibrations cause much annoyance to dwellers along this highway. Some of the residents on Centre street have suggested that the operation of heavy trucks be prohibited on this thoroughfare but it is a surety that even though the Board of Aldermen might be disposed to place such a restriction, State authorities would not countenance prohibition on this, or any other main thoroughfare. Some relief might be obtained if the speed of trucks on Centre street will be restricted and trucks with defective equipment are stopped and the owners of such vehicles compelled to make needed re-Many persons residing along Centre stopped and the owners of such ve-hicles compelled to make needed re-Semi-finals—Taylor defeated Linke, 7-3, 13-0; Dunn defeated Ham, 13-0, 7-0. Last Saturday night St. Michael's Society, an Italian organization of this city wound up the observation of its patron saint's day by giving a pyrotechnical display on the playground at Newton Upper Falls. Pyrotechnical displays in late years have not been fireworks. They have been noise works. Instead of featuring brilliant colored lights, powerful bombs are exploded high in the air. This was the case on Saturday night and the force of the explosions alarmed persons residing in this city, Needham, Wellesley, and other nearby places. They feared a catasthrope might have occurred and kept telephone lines to police headquarters in this and surrounding places busy making inquiries.

Eskimo Seal Hunter "Talks" to His Prey

It requires a great deal of ingenuity on the part of the Eskimo seal hunter to get near his quarry. He must get to the leeward so that the seal will not scent him and then he must crawl up carefully, and when within a tew hundred feet of the seal he gets flat on the ice. The seal takes the Eskimo, who is able to "talk seal" perfectly, to be one of its kindred, and indeed there is a great deal of resemblance between the two, for seal and hunter are similarly clothed, and the Eskimo, living largely upon the fish and oil of the seal, is a "arly odorous. As the two lie there upon the ice a most amusing sort of conversation is kept up between them. The seal makes a remark tween them. The seal makes a remark and flips his fail. The Eskimo replies and makes a corresponding gesture with his foot. At the same time he throws himself a little forward. The seal soon has something further to say, and again flips his rail. The Es-kimo replies as before, and still fur-ther closes up the distance between them.-Exchange

In the "Good Old Days" It is not as easy today as it was 20 years ago to walk right in and ask the president of a bank what time it is or what he thinks of the weather. Heads of corporations are today intrenched behind a squad of bright-eyed secretaries whose greatest ambition in life faries whose greatest ambition in life seems to be to ask useless questions. In the old days, the president of a railroad or the head of a steel company could sit in the front office in his shirt sleeves and smoke a clay pipe and nothing would be thought of it.—Harry Daniel, in Thrift Magazine

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Somebody recently alluded to the gay character of men's intimate attree and sought to disparage the wearing of bright colors even though such were not intended for public gaze. If prefer not to discuss that but to come out in the open and talk of the get-ups that the world may look upon without a blush. Personally, I have no objection to colors providing they do not clash. In fact I would rather encourage them if they furnished an engaging harmony and gave pleasure to the eye.

One thing in which I have never appeared is a jazz sweater. The chief reason is that I do not own one. Should I adorn myself thus I would no doubt have to answer many questions, some of which would be asked by myself for I would be puzzled to tions, some of which would be asked by myself for I would be puzzled took know just what I was doing in such a make-up. However it may yet occur to me that a jazz sweater is a necessary part of my wardrobe and if the fates are with me I shall seek to possess one. I make no promises.

Now that Summer is approaching we are bound to see more colors in the dress of both women and men, with no age limit established. White will be predominant, I suppose, touched off with delicate pink and blue for the girls (again no age limit) and louder and more mixed shades of green and red and orange for the men. My preference is for blue and if I cannot, under the rules of good taste for men, wear a dainty blue I try to find a companion who does. I can admire, and do, much more than if I wore it myself.

Proof of my theory that colors are worth while is found in an article I read the other day which dealt with people walking on roads at night and their danger of automobile accidents. It, I believe, was the answer to the custom of wearing colored garments.

The writer took up the case of those who must traverse unlighted thoroughfares. If the problem is not one for Newton I know not where it may be encountered. Once we are off the main thoroughfares of the Garden City we find that many a street is dark, due in part to the lighting system and to the presence of the leaves on the numerous trees. Not for one instant would I consent to the cutting down of a single tree. If there is anything more rarely beautiful it is a street lined with trees and the older.

Without further discussion may I lunge into that section of the committee's report most vital to Newton and neighboring places. "As 3,500,000 and neighboring places. "As 3,500,000 and neighboring places." As 3,500,000 and a treet lined with trees and the older.

on the numerous trees. Not for one instant would I consent to the cutting down of a single tree. If there is anything more rarely beautiful it is a street lined with trees and the older and larger the trees the more entrancing the spectacle.

But Newton has never wasted money on street lamps. No one can truthfully say that there are too many say, and many do, that there are too many say, and many do, that there are not enough. And I challenge anybody to deny that an occasional street light surrounded by leafy trees accentuates the darkness of the other part of the road.

We were dealing with pedestrians, at least that was the subject of the article to which I referred a moment ago. People in dark clothing are the cause of great anxiety to an observant motorist when he is obliged to do night driving. These folks may not know it but they cause themselves to be almost invisible because even in the bright rays of an automobile lamp they do not show-up too clearly.

The article states that a discovery the state in matters financial.

ABOUT TOWN

A well known citizen of Newton has suggested to us that Charlesbank road should be widened from Saint James street easterly to Nonantum road at the Metropolitan Parkway reservation. This section of Charlesbank road is a two-way street and there is much traffic along it. The citizen observed curbing being placed along a stretch of the street and this caused his comment. The property owner who petitioned for this curbing did so because automobiles are frequently driven onto the sidewalk, thus endangering the safety of pedestrians.

If you are considering the purchase of an automobile, you owe it to yourself to check the new Chevrolet Six against any other car—value for value and price for price!

Here, in the price range of the four, is offered a smooth, powerful, six-cylinder valve-in-head motor—which delivers better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline—and whose smooth, quiet, velvety operation, with its complete lack of drumming and vibration, is a revelation. Here are beautiful bodies by Fisher—with fittings by Ternstedt . . . rich, deep-tufted upholsteries and adjustable driver's seat. And throughout the entire chassis are found numerous examples of advanced engineering—such as quiet, non-locking 4-wheel brakes . . ball bearing steering mechanism . . and automatic acceleration pump.

But no mere recital of features can give you any conception of Chevrolet's value leadership. So we urge you to come in and see for yourself why over 500,000 people have chosen the new Chevrolet Six since January 1st!

Youth vows friendship, reckless of the years. Ouger, the blur that time and distance lend till some half-forgotten keepsake stirs heart and mind.

A fine girl, Mary. Smiling, frank, wholesome. A good chum to have then. A good friend to have now.

Her old mother needed her. She's teaching school, back in the old home town, now. But you married, prospered, moved away.

What's she doing tonight? Correcting spelling papers, probably. Or arithmetic.

Would a telephone call interrupt? Pshaw! You know better. She'd be tickled pink.

more, and the treasurer, Miss Edith McCann, had the honor of being present at every meeting throughout the year.

The Shakespeare Club gave ten dollars for prizes to the Newton High School for excellence in the study of Shakespeare, once more encouraging this splendid literary interest.

This year has been marked with very enjoyable occasions; such as the luncheon and afternoon at the seashore-home of Mrs. Herbert W. Drew, the interesting afternoon when the Club presented Mrs. James F. Cooper with a tea set of etched glass as a token of love and friendship, and Mrs. Bernard Early related the story of her recent trip abroad, especially of Stratford-on-Avon.

Then there was the real Christmas Party with Mrs. James F. Cooper, hostess, with the lighted tree with gifts for all, the decorations and refreshments, all of which had the genine Christmas atmosphere. At this meeting, too, Mrs. Lea Gilbert taiked most interestingly of her trip abroad, and of the presentation of the Club's gift toward the rebuilding of Shakespeare Smemorial Theatre, and of their grateful acceptance.

Another one of the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club's happy days that will linger with true pleasure and gratitude in the memory of its members was the most delightful afternoon given them by their president, Mrs. Mary C. Blakemore at the attractive Brae Burn Country Club with a Luncheon followed by after dinner speeches, toasts, and sociability. The plays studied this year were and they continuing along the subjects and the officers in the subject "Some Characters of Shakespeare" which, as usual, of Mrs.

It is impossible to obey all the impulses, because the quantity of desires exceeds the supply of satisfactions. The moralist wants to develop the right relationship between desires and the objects of desires. The trained meteorologist can tell more about the weather than the sea captain. Good apparatus helps everywhere, but insight transcends at times all apparatus. There is always a residual flare, made up of intuition, common sense, and unconsciously deposited experience. Prof. Kirtley F. Mather spoke on "The Foundations of Humanism" before the Mather Class at its regular weekly meeting last Sunday morning at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House.

Prof. Mather based his address on the second part of the book, "A Pre-face to Morals," by Walter Lippman. Last Sunday he took up the sub-ject of the first part of this book, "The Dissolution of the Ancestral Or-der."

Last Sunday he took up the subject of the first part of this book, "The Dissolution of the Ancestral Order."

Next Sunday he will complete the book by discussing Part 3, "The Genius of Modernity."

This book is the choice for the present month of May of the Book of the Month Club, and will therefore be widely read and extensively commented upon.

There is a modern tendency in some quarters to discard the belief that behind the physical universe is a supernatural kingdom which is just as much an objective fact, though invisible, and just as real as the British Empire. This peculiar modern notion seems to rest most of its reliance on some conception or other of human psychology. Humanism is a name given to it.

According to humanism a lot of the old religious ideas are fictions. Therefore, humanity, having been deprived of those fictions, must now come to terms with the problems that created those fictions.

There is some confusion about the difference between a decoracy and a theocracy. The deistic theory is that God is the invisible King who administers the world from without. His power comes from outside the world and is supernatural. He created the world and is supernatural. He created the world and is supernatural. He created the world and is a product but a process: The power is within instead of without.

The book is the choice for the present month of the sould suite in the need to make this arise to result in the need of the powers of many for whom it is suited and who need it sadly. The problem, therefore, is to bring up the powers of many for whom it is suited and who need it sadly. The problem, therefore, is to bring up the powers of many for whom it is suited and who need it sadly. The fooling is not a product but a process: The process is within instead of without.

The theistic theory is that the world is not a product but a process: The power is within instead of without. The operations are all right here. Humanism is merely one of the processes used by the theoretic administration, and through men the process is to continue.

or eternal and man has the right to live in he land of heart's desire, but he should pursue desires, but he should pursue desires that are possible.

Formerly it was thought well to subdue the natural, primitive desires by means of reason, grace, and renunciation. To find happiness a man was supposed to reconstruct his world, and begin on himself.

The prevailing opinion of the moment rebounds from one extreme view to another just as extreme. At one time it is thought that natural passions are all evil. Next we find the same natural passions are all considered good.

In all this welter of conflicting notions, the conclusion that the philosopher usually reaches is some form of asceticism. Man must subdue or subjugate portions of himself. He must train his desires. The good life is associated with some form of renunciation. The tendency of some modern people, like Harry Elmer same and Bertrand Russell, is to claim that man should give full play to all his desires is order to free himself of his shackles. Thus he will be true to himself. The philosopher is squarely opposed to this and insists on discipline and self-regulation. Man must deliberately forge shackles to bind himself. The Licenses Committee at a recess meeting Monday night voted to recommend the Moreau petition provided a new structure is erected on the lot at 14 Hawthorne street; such structure to be placed at the front of the lot, a safe distance from dwellings on adjoining lots, and subject to the approval of Chief Randlett of the Fire Department. The recommendation was approved by the Board.

Another permit to conduct a similar business was granted to William Kaklambanus, 13 Hawthorne street in the building formerly used by the King Pressed Steel Company. This location had received the approval of Chief Randlett.

Leslie B. Sanders, for the Stuart Chevrolet Company, asked for a permit to operate a gasoline station at 27 Hovey street, to install two pumps in connection therewith and to store 1500 gallons of gasoline. Also to install an air and water tower. No opposition was registered against this station at the hearing. At a previous meeting former Alderman William Ball had called attention to the congestion of automobiles on Hovey street at this place.

No persons appeared to object to the taking of land on Walnut and Homer streets for municipal purposes. This land is the southeast section of the so called "triangle site" for the proposed (Continued on Page 4)

Alderman Temperley opposed the granting of the licenses to Miss Orlandella and DeAmicis, not because he believes them unfitted, but because he is of the opinion still that no common victualler licenses shall be grabbed to other than bona-fide lunch rooms. Other common victualler licenses were granted to the morial street, and to the Newton Corner Delicatessen at 254 Centre street, and to the Newton Centre Delicatessen at 161 Beacon street.

Childs Non-Committal

On His Candidacy

Following the public announcement by Sinclair Weeks, president of the Board of Aldermen that he will be a candidate for the office of Mayor of Newton at the election next December, a representative of the GRAPHIC inquired of Mayor Edwin O. Childs, "Will you be a candidate for Mayor at the coming election?" Mr. Childs replied, "I am exceedingly busy attending to the duties of the office of Mayor to which I have been elected. I have no time now to consider my personal political future. To be Mayor of any city in Massachusetts is a worthy ambition. Two steps are necessary. First, to announce one's candidacy; second, to get elected."

Serious Fire At Working Boys' Home

Two Alarms For Fire in Cellar-$7000 Damage

Tuesday evening as the 135 boys at the Working Boys' Home in Newton Highlands were eating supper smoke started to pour into the building and the boys were ordered to participate in a fire drill. They marched from the dining room in rapid time and and took refuge from the rain which was falling in another structure on the grounds. As the boys were at supper, James Waldron, chef at the home discovered smoke issuing from the cellar. He traced the smoke to the heating plant and there found a small blaze in progress. Waldron telephoned the Newton Fire Department and then returned to fight the fire after notifying the Xaverian Brothers in charge of the home. Ladder 2, under Captain Turner, quickly responded to the alarm and as its crew entered the cellar with chemical lines the flames reached a large tank containing fuel oil and a hot air explosion followed which drove the firemen from the cellar. Captain Turner pulled an alarm from the box at the home and when Chief Randlett arrived he ordered a second alarm which brought assistance from Needham as well as from other parts of Newton. The fire, which burned flercely for some time, and which because of the oil, was accompanied by huge clouds of smoke, was confined to the basement and first floor of the two-sory building in which it started. The damage is estimated at about $7000. The main building at the home was not damaged. As Hose 6 reached the grounds, a shaft on this piece of anneratus broke. ing at the home was not damaged. As Hose 6 reached the grounds, a shaft on this piece of apparatus broke and it was towed to the repair shop.

Dr. MacLure Is To Retire From Pulpit

Rector of Grace Church for Twenty

The Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure rector of Grace Church, Newton for the past twenty-two years, has offered his resignation to the vestrymen of the church it became known the latter part of last week. The resignation was reluctantly accepted and it was voted to make Dr. MacLure, rector emeritus when his retirement becomes effective next January first.

Some time ago Dr. MacLure asked that a younger man be given the post of rector but the vestrymen urged him to reconsider his decision to leave the ministry. Recently he again asked that his resignation be accepted and at a meeting of the vestrymen last week it was voted, though reluctantly. According to the minutes of the meeting, "It was voted unanimously that the vestry learns with great regret of the final decision of our rector, the Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure, to resign the rectorship of Grace Church, to take effect at the end of the present calendar year, and accepts the same reluctantly, with the hope that he will remain until his successor can be selected and assume his duties, even though it may be at a later date. It was unanimously voted that after the Rev. Dr. MacLure's resignation becomes effective he be made rector-was unanimously voted that after the Rev. Dr. MacLure's resignation becomes effective, he be made rector emeritus."

Dr. MacLure assumed the rectorship of Grace Church on June 1, 1907 and prior to that time served churches in and around Pittsburgh for twenty years. He is a native of western Pennsylvania and was graduated from Hobart College, Geneva, N. Y., in 1881, from which he received the degree of master of arts in 1884. He prepared for the ministry in the General Theological Seminary in New York City and has been actively engaged in that occupation for forty-four years.

Dr. MacLure, who is sixty-seven years old, plaas to spend his time in leisurely activity and has tentative plans for writing a book about the church and the religion of the present day. He has been chairman of the committee on dispatch of business of the Massachusetts Episcopal Diocese for the last ten years or more and during that time has also been a member of the standing committee of the diocese whose duties are to act for the convention during the interims between sessions. It is expected that he will sever his connections with both of these bodies with the expiration of his term this year. He has also been a deputy from Massachusetts to the general convention of the Episcopal church.

also been a deputy from Massachusetts to the general convention of the Episcopal church.

The rettrement of Dr. MacLure will be received by the church as reluctantly and with as keen disappointment as it was by the vestrymen. During his rectorship the church enjoyed flourishing well-being and its scope of activity and influence has been widely extended. He is credited with obtaining an endowment of $450,000 for the church which provides an income for it of $18,000 a year. Under his administration the interior of the edifice at the corner of Church and Eldredge streets has been made more attractive, the parish house has been enlarged and the stone rectory, adjacent to the church has been built.

Weeks Makes Public Announcement Of His Candidacy For Mayor

SINCLAIR WEEKS

At the City Election to be held this Fall, the voters of Newton will be asked to choose a Mayor to serve them for a term of wo years.

After careful consideration and at the request of a number of my friends, I have decided to become a candidate for that office. I look upon the office of Mayor of the City of Newton office. I fook upon the office of Mayor of the City of Newton as a position of responsibility and trust, to which any person may honorably aspire. As chief executive of the City Government, the Mayor is charged with the duty of directing and guiding the expenditure of large sums of money in the maintenance of our public institutions, our streets, and all of the other departments and public works, the proper development of which goes toward making Newton a City where people want to live and make their homes want to live and make their homes.

My knowledge of municipal problems gained through seven ears' service in the Board of Aldermen leads me to believe, that if elected Mayor, I may be able to give to the City some measure of service in the administration of its affairs, and to this end I should of course bend every effort.

(Signed) SINCLAIR WEEKS.

SECOND ANNUAL TENNIS TOURNEY

Newton high school will stage its second interscholastic tennis tournament tomorrow at the outdoor dirt courts at the Longwood Cricket Club and has high hopes of repeating its 1928 team victory. In addition it has in Arthur Noble, captain of the team and a prominent figure in boys and junior tourneys the past few years, a probable individual champion. Noble has not been beaten this year in either singles or doubles. He will be seeded number one in tomorrow's tourney.

seeded number one in tomorrow's tourney.

A larger number of schools with a total of nearly 60 contestants are entered in this year's event than competed last year. In addition to Newton such schools as Woburn, Winchester, Malden, Lowell, Brookline, Boston English, Cambridge Latin, Somerville, and Everett have entered teams of six or four players. Three cups will be awarded—an individual prize, runner-up prize and a team trophy for the team scoring the most points. Play will begin early in the morning and by noon time it is expected that several rounds will be finished before adjournment for lunch at the Newton High School dining room is called. The afternoon matches will also be played at Longwood, the club management having given the use of the grounds for the day, contrary to last year when the afternoon matches were played on the Newton High courts because of the staging of other matches at the club courts.

NEWTON INCREASES LEAGUE LEAD

By winning from Everett on Wednesday while Brookline high was taking the measure of Somerville on Diliby field Newton high increased its lead in the Suburban league race to a game and a half. Brookline high is occupying second place alone having dissolved its tie with Somerville to but has played one less game than the orange and black. Next Wednesday Newton and Brookline meet for the second game of the season on Victory Field. Although the game was originally scheduled for Brookline the latter's playing field is in poor condition and they have been playing all of their games away from home. It begins to look as though this would be the crucial game of the season for the orange and black and if they can come through with flying colors they should be assured of the title. In addition to Brookline the local school has still to meet Rindge and Somerville to complete the league schedule. Rindge will entertain Newton at Russell Field next week Saturday and the following Wednesday Newton will go to Somerville to wind up the race. Should Newton win from Brookline it can then afford to drop either its Rindge or Somerville contest but if Brookline wins Captain Fletcher and his mates will have to win both the remaining games to escape a tie.

WABAN WOMEN WANT BICYCLE ALLOWED ON SIDEWALKS

number of these vehicles in Newton. Most parents, today, refuse to allow their children to own bicycles because of the hazards of riding such vehicles on streets. But, if children are permitted to legally use the sidewalks for bicycles it will inevitably follow that a large percentage of parents will allow their boys and girls to operate bicycles.

If our sidewalks become "bicycle ways" it is more than probable that accidents will occur in which pedestrians will be the victims. The question of compensation for injuries received in such accidents will naturally follow. Will the parents of the minors riding bicycles on sidewalks be obliged to take out compulsory liability insurance to cover their children's bicycles?

Will each bicycle have to bear registration numbers? It is possible that there may be 'hit and run' bicyclists even as there are "hit and run' autoists.

It is quite likely that if the Waban women's petition is granted, similar petitions will be presented by persons residing in other sections of the city. It is also possible that decided objections may be entered against such petitions. There are in Newton persons in numbers who still walk. It is probable that such persons will regard with disfavor the evolution of side-walks into "side rides." The Claims and Rules Committee and the Board of Aldermen have an interesting subject before them.

ABOUT TOWN

At a meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night a petition was submitted by the Waban Woman's Club which reads:

"Inasmuch as the automobile traffic of Waban makes bleycling on the street unsafe for children, and because the sidewalk is correspondingly free from pedestrians, we the undersigned respectfully petition that the sidewalk on the school side of Beacon street, and also on the school side of Beacon street, and also on the school side of the sidewalk on the school side of Beacon street, and also on the school side of the police force be instructed to inform the children of the Angler and Levi Warren High School be kept open for bicycles. Also, that an officer of the police force be instructed to inform the children of the Angler and Levi Warren schools of this privilege and of their responsibility to meet it." (Signed by members of the Waban Woman's Club.)

The petition contained four hundred names of women residing in Waban. It was referred to the committee on Claims and Rules of the Board of Aldermen. Section 190 of the Revised Ordinances of 1922 of the City of Newton reads—"No person shall drive, wheel or draw any vehicle, except a child's carriage drawn by hand, or permit any horse or cattle, swine, sheep or goats under his care to go upon a sidewalk or otherwise obstruct or injure any sidewalk."

In past years this ordinance was, on the whole, quite rigidly enforced by policemen in this city. During the past few years there has been agreatual diminution in the enforcement of this rule and it is a common sight to day to observe a boy or girl along a sidewalk or otherwise obstruct or injure any sidewalk."

In past years there has been agreatual diminution in the enforcement of this rule and it is a common sight to to day to observe a boy or girl along a sidewalk on a bleycle, pass by a policeman and receive no reprimand.

Should the Aldermen revise the ordinance pertaining to the use of sidewalks by bicycles undoubtedly there will be a large increase in the number of these vehicles in Newton. Mo

THE HISTORICAL SOCIETY FIELD

The first Field Day of the Newton Historical Society was held last Sat-urday in accordance with the program rranged by the committee Ma Childs and Sec. Francis S. Fuller.

Promptly at three o'clock the cavalcade of automobiles of the members and guests formed at Newtonville square and proceeded to make a tour of sixteen places of local historic in-terest under the delightful guidance of Mr. William B. Wood, lifelong res-ident of this city, and a member of the Society.

When the party alighted at the first burying ground on Centre street President Frank H. Damon of the Society laid a large wreath at the foot of the monument erected to mark the site of the first meeting house, and in commemoration of the first settlers of Newton.

The members of the party were in-terested greatly in the visit to the present edifice of the First Church, at Newton Centre which had been opened for their reception.

The hospitality of the owners of the Woodward House (1681) was enjoyed and appreciated by the entire party.

After visits to the several places the line of automobiles came to a stop before the famous Edward Jackson Mansion, where an informal meeting was held, and the treasurers and heir-looms there received the closest attention from the enthusiastic party. The exercises closed by refreshments served in the old time flower garden, by Sec. and Mrs. Fuller.

The outing was voted both delight-by Sec. and Mrs. Fuller.

The outing was voted both delightful and very well worth while, and it was agreed that the first meeting of the Society in September next could well be another field day of a similar nature.

The Executive Committee of the Society expect to be able to arrange for a series of very interesting and valuable meetings for the season of 1929-1930.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME
Of the 46 members of the Massachusetts Legislature who voted to sustain Governor Allen's veto of the bill being retroactive. Messrs. Baker, Luitwieler and Thompson. Senator Hollis worded to pass the bill over the veto of this Excellency. No measure has received more prompt consideration after it was once reported by the committee than the salary bill. When the veto message was read Tuesday afternoon in the House there was only one spealer. He was the petitioner for the bill. Representative of the Governor. After the House had voted 176 to 37 to override the Governor the veto was immediately rushed to the Senate. Many House members followed to see what was going to happen. Not one Senator had a word to say on either side. The veto was overriden by the Senate. 25 to 9. It now appears that in order to obtain the increase for this year—the bill being retroactive to Jan. 1—the Legislature will have to get the Governor's permission to appropriate the money. Complications are likely, and the matter is not settled yet.

The House and Senate have passed the bill authorizing the construction of a parkway or boulevard from a point mear the junction of Newton and Hammond streets, Brookline, to Beacon street, this city.

The Senate and House differ regarding provisions of the bill permitting funeral processions to use boulevards and parkways. This is the measure for which Senator Hollis made a successful fight in the Senate. So many restrictions, however, have been add ed by the Senate that the House members feel the intent of the bill is nuilified. The lower branch refused to concur and committee on conferences will see to thresh the matter out and seef if a compromise cannot be agreed upon.

After more than a year's consideration of the general subject a bill has been passed for hospital or home care for needy Civil War veterans, their wives and widows. There was an attempt made last session to have a home or series of smaller homes built in order that aged couples would not be separated and other suitable provisions made for veterans, their wives and widows. The 1928 General Court appointed a commission to study the matter and the report was the subject of many hearings this year. The result is the bill described above which is somewhat different from that originally sought.

Newton, with its many excellent school buildings, is no doubt interested in the way Boston supervises such structures. Agitation against the present Boston Schoolhouse Commission has resulted in the passage of bill, which appears to be well on the way of becoming law, which abolishes the present commission and provides the present commission and provides for the creation of a board of commis-sioner of school buildings and a de-partment of school buildings in Bos-

A scrap occurred in the Senate over the bill providing for the appointment of additional members of the State Police Patrol, commonly called the constabulary. Opponents said the cost should not be met from the State bighway fund as provided in the bill. Senator Hollis offered an amendment providing the total amount expended should not exceed the total income from motor vehicle fines. His amendment was rejected, however, and the bill as originally drawn was passed.

Splendid Fossil of Ancient Sea Terror

The fossiled skeleton of a teleo-saurus, a terror of the seas of the Jurassic period, 150,000,000 years ago, is on exhibition at the Field Museum of Natural History, Chicago. The of Natural History, Chicago. The creature, a sea crocodile about ten feet long, comes from Wurttemberg. Germany, and was excavated near there from land which was a sea bottom in prehistoric times, when that part of Europe was covered by water. The fossil is unusual in that almost every detail of the skeletal struc-ture of the animal is intact and sharply defined in the specimen. Rows of sharp-pointed, vicious-looking teeth in the jaws indicate that the animal probably was carnivorous, and that it undoubtedly preyed upon lesser creatures of the sea. The crocodile was protected by strong plates along its back, which acted as armor. The bones of these plates are preserved in the fossil.

The skull, the short front legs and the longer hind ones and the vertebrae are virtually complete.

Good and Bad Hawks

The blological survey of the United States Department of Agriculture points out that there are a number of different species of hawks, and the food habits of all are not the same. Some prey almost entirely upon small mammals, such as mice, ground suirrels and rabbits, whereas the food of others consists chiefly of birds.

The bird enters should be killed at every opportunity, according to the

The bird-eating hawks include the Cooper hawk and the sharp-shinned hawk and these species prefer to capture their prey by swift, flerce darts from the concealment of thick foliage.

The stork had brought a new baby girl to the family and father came smiling to the breakfast table to announce to the four assembled small ones, Sam, Sally, Lois and David. that there was a tiny new sister upstairs.

I don't believe there is a happier family anywhere than ours." "There's the orphans' home," said five-year-old Lois thoughtfully.

During the week ending May 18th there were 128 patients in the hospital. Of this number 46 paid as much as cost of care or more, 50 paid less than cost of care, and 32, including bables, were treated free of charge. 12 bables were born, 7 boys and 5 girls. 129 visits were made to the out-patient department and 8 to the eye clinic. 16 accident cases were cared for in the operating room. 8 social service visits were made in the homes, and 5 patients were transferred by the social service car.

On Wednesday, May 22nd, the hospital was visited by a group of hospital superintendents. The group was headed by Dr. Washburn of the Massachusetts General Hospital.

The New Building has had its first patients. A robin was discovered to have established her nest on a ledge, above the front door and just beneath the second floor windows where she is plainly visible from the X-ray department. "Mother and bables are doing well."

What then do we find in a book of 308 pages? No less than 102.48 columns of news, editorials, pictures and reading matter of all kinds. And that is less than the average daily issue of the Evening Bulletin for June, which was 112.89 columns while the average for the first six months of 1928 was 108.54.

It makes no difference whether it is a Philadelphia, a Seattle or a Boston paper. The principal idea is to show what the person who buys a newspaper receives for his money. In my opinion it is no less than astonishing. criticism of bicycle riding on the sidewalk are respectfully reminded of a recent news dispatch from Sanford, Maine. A real estate agent of that place was run into by a velocipede operated by a six-year-old boy. The youngster came down hill at high speed and the front wheel passed over the man's foot breaking a bone. The dispatch adds:

"There is a town ordinance prohibiting bicycle riding on the sidewalks, but it could not be determined whether this would apply to velocipedes."

If a velocipede, against which offer no protest, can cause a serious injury, what power of destruction lies in a bleycle? Plenty, if you ask me. However, we seem to be about where we started on this campaign of ours to check blcycle riding on the sidewalks of Newton. Perhaps we ought to transfer our energies to some other place. I can think of one community where we would surely accomplish our purpose—a city or town where there were no sidewalks.

COMMANDER EIGHT CONVERTIBLE CABRIOLET, $1645. Six wire wheels and trunk rack standard equipment. COMMANDER EIGHT COUPE, $1495. Prices at factory. Bumpers and spare tires extra.

TODAY'S Commander Eight has swept to a popularity eclipsing even that of its predecessor, the car which sped 25,000 miles in 22,968 minutes.

Studebaker, Builder of Champions, holder of every official speed and endurance record for fully equipped stock cars, now sells more 8-cylinder cars than any other manufacturer on earth.

The first Studebaker straight eight was introduced at last year's motor shows. Its champion performance started the nation's swing to Studebaker. Smart, youthful style added still greater impetus. But Studebaker's One-Profit value is the real reason for Studebaker supremacy.

The Commander Eight blends flashing style and supple power with comfort unknown until Studebaker introduced ball bearing spring suspension.

Hydraulic shock absorbers further enhance its travel ease. Double-drop frame is lower, costlier, but steadier and safer. Easier, more powerful brakes; steelcore steering wheel; non-shattering windshield-Commander quality makes its One-Profit price quite as remarkable as its performance.

And Commander performance is something you can never forget, once you enjoy it for an hour. May we place a Commander at your disposal?

BIENNIAL COUNCIL. Newton Clubwomen should not miss the wonderful opportunity to attend at least a few of the intensely interesting sessions of the General Federation Biennial Council. As the guest of the State Federation this group of representative women of the United States come to the New Ocean House, Swampscott—an ideal headquarters for entertaining, and with a sea outlook that will be novel and delightful for our friends from the west—on Monday, May 27th, and be royally entertained through June 1st—particularly on June 1st, one might say, for that is "play day", with a myriad plans for auto rides and trips of delightful appeal. It would be a pity for any Newton Club-woman to let this week slip by, without spending a few hours—if no more—in this atmosphere of our great national organization of Clubs.

The entire program was published in lest week's Column and preference.

The final Executive Board Meeting of this season, and the first under the new regime of officers for the coming year, 1929-30, with the new president, Mrs. Phister Cowan presiding, will take place at the Technical High School Library, Newtonville, on Tuesday afternoon, May 28th, at 2.30 o'clock. Plans for the new year, and naming of chairmen of committees will make up the interesting business of the afternoon.

It would be a pity for any Newton Club-woman to let this week slip by, without spending a per of our great national organization of Clubs.

The entire program was published in last week's Column, and reference to that will indicate at just what sessions certain speakers and reports may be heard.

Club-women who may not read what Mrs. Poole has to say of this meeting reported in this Column under the State Meeting, are herewith notified of her request that they do not seek to attend the pleasurable the state of the pageant, unless they are members of the Federation Council, or accredited delegates as presidents of Clubs-amiliated with the General Federation.

This information has been given because of the containon has been business in a parliamentary perfection that has no equal to what is given at a Woman's Club meeting.

Mrs. Packard's own words in greeting to the delegates and visiting Clube women carried forward the idea of power and inspiration that this gathering awakened.

"Members of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs' she said "I welcome you as representative of one of the most distinguished units of the largest organization of home-makers in the world."

"You have gathered here in annual all meeting for very good reasons, in this year it has sometimes seemed that we were so occupied with the coming biennial meeting. It is a so to have an annual meeting. It is a so to have an annual meeting. It is a so to have an annual meeting. It is a so to have an annual meeting. We can check up on the year's work. That check will tell us not only how nearly we have attained our aims and where we can more surely forge ahead next year, but it will also point out why we are already among the leader States of the General Federation and keeping us modest in accomplishment, help us to hold that position of leadership.

"The inventory we take here is no dry as dust accounting. Let us look rather upon this review as an illuminated map of the work of the past months that will throw light into dark places where we must yet set our candles agleam.

"May we go back to our Clubs determined that our programs shall be valuable not only to ourselves, but to our communities and that they shall cast the shadow of possibilities yet ahead of organized women."

our communities and that they shall cast the shadow of possibilities yet ahead of organized women."

Dr. Howard K. Glidden, chairman of the Selectmen of Swampscott, added to the thought Mrs. Packard had expressed, in a pleasing tribute of welcome, and his further remarks upon the celebration of the Tercentennary of Massachusetts aroused thought of possibilities, and of patriotic purposes.

of possibilities, and of patriotic purposes.

"I deem it an honor to greet you" said Mr. Glidden, "The Town of Swampscott accepts your coming as an honor, and I know that many other communities are a bit jealous of us. To digress a bit, I would call your attention to the fact that we all are about to step into and across the threshold of 300 years of endeavors and accomplishments, and that you here today truly represent and bear the torch that the dauntless band of 1700 souls who came to these shores in 1629-30 to colonize the Massachusetts Bay settlement.

"Doubtless, you all are proud to trace your lineage back to those early days and primitive days. How shall we celebrate this occasion which is so near to use? I would commemorate the charter they brought with them, which gave them the right to self-government. I would commemorate their noble endeavors to establish education and the institution for the attainment of such. I would commemorate morate their endeavors to found good homes and surround themselves with religion and moral strongholds.

"The bright spots on the Pages of Our History during these past 300 years bear testimony to the worth of woman's work."

In concluding Dr. Glidden said, "I believe that you, as individuals and collectively have a potential energy to carry on through the years to come for great good and wonderful achievement for womankind."

With these introductions of happy vein, the business of the convention opened on the afternoon of Wednesday, May 15th, with reports of officers.

Grace Morrison Poole, first vice-president of the General Federation, was given a most cordial greeting as a former president of the Federation, when she was given the floor by Mrs. Packard, for her statement as to the coming Biennial Council meeting. In view of the vague idea that many Clubwomen have as to just what sessions of this convention they are privileged to attend, her plea as to the attendance of only guests and authorized officers of the General Federation, in national or State capacity, will be welcomed as clearing the situation.

She urged every Club woman in Massachusetts to attend some session during the week of May 27 to June 1 at the New Ocean House, Swampscott. She emphasized the point that while every Club in the General Federation has only one delegate each, Massachusetts, as the hostess, is privileged to send any Club woman, provided she brings her membership card or an accredited letter from her president, exchanging it for a visitor's badge.

She further explained that only those privileged through official capacity to attend the opening function on Monday evening, May 27, the Massachusetts State dinner, would be admitted to the massue, "Enchanted Alsies," which will follow the dinner. She begged other Massachusetts women to stay away on that occasion.

She begged other Massachusetts women to stay away on that occasion, "for we have so praised you to the General Federation", she continued, "that we cannot think for one moment that won will fail use that General Federation", she continued, "that we cannot think for one moment that you will fail us that night."

"I cannot tell you how appreciative I am of the Sacrifices you are all making to make this the finest meeting the General Federation has ever had. You are meeting everyone in Boston and driving them down to Swampscott, a welcome such as they Boston and driving them down to Swampscott, a welcome such as they never have had, and I can't believe they will ever again call us cold and formal after that."

Mrs. Edwin L. Pride, the clerk, in her Annual Report, gave a most concise and clear report of the various open meetings, with programs, and of the Board and Council meetings, with their problems and special speakers. She has the excellent record of at-tendance at all—nine regular and one special of the Executive Board, eight een regular and four special of the President's Council, one meeting of Department chairmen, and three open meetings for Clubwomen. She has sent out 3,225 credentials to delegates, 500 announcements of Committee appointments, besides notices for Federation Topics, and preparing three voting lists—and miscellaneous corvoting lists—and miscellaneous cor-respondence answered. Such topics as Law Observance, American Opera, Work for Prevention of Cruelty to Children, Judge Baker Foundation, Broadcasting, and Legislative measures, attest the varied lines of informative study the Board has set for themselves during the year. Mrs. Pride was unusually successful in greeting her successor, while making a graceful exit from her two years of service, in her closing words: "As the clerk lays down her duties, it is with confidence that other hands are to carry forward its requirements to carry forward its requirements with an increasing measure of suc-

to carry forward its requirements with an increasing measure of success, and to the new clerk, not only greetings, but congratulations are extended for the opportunity for service that will enlist the highest capabilities of mind and heart".

In her report of the supervision of the Manual, Mrs. Allen V. Mosher, the assistant clerk, made all realize her assistant clerk, made all realize her herculean task of its assembling and printing from the time of "Questionnaire time" (not Spring), to its mail-ing, when her days and nights were (Continued on Page 13) haunted with the spectre of "delayed Manuals". It should have made presidents promise never again to procrastinate, and so disturb the sleep of the assistant clerk. A welcome announcement, since it should make for wider use of the annual reports of State officers, which now is impossible, since the Manual is for the use of presidents only, is the authorized printing in two parts hereafter, the reports being in Part I and for distribution among Club members, while the more personal and private information as to Clubs and officers, with addresses, will be in Part II for special lists.

Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., voiced her enthusiasm over her Department of Junior Membership, by saying:

"If we were to give the increase in Junior Clubs during the past year in round figures, the report would not be startling. We do believe, however, that there is a tremendous increase in interest and enthusiasm in the Department throughout the State. At the Annual Meeting last May we reported 29 Clubs sponsoring Junior work, but when the replies to the questionnaire were received during the Summer, 40 Clubs reported Junior Membership as one of their sponsored activities.

That (club) institutes have been outstanding features of the Club year was reaffirmed in the report of Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, chairman, who stated during the year now ending, there had been a total attendancy of 1046 at the seven regular meetings, with an average of 149 against an average of 80 for the preceding year.

Sixty five prominent Club women from various of the sections of the state have been speakers. "We never ask a speaker to tell what she thinks but to explain what she knows. We do not deal in theories but in facts. A woman is asked to discuss a specific question because we know that she has had practical experience in the field under discussion," said Mrs. Walker, used and misunderstood and the Committee feels that it is inadequate to express the scope and methods of our endeavors. "The work done by the Clubs has been more extensive and more effective this year than ever before: but more and more these group efforts must be extended by individual efforts; individual study of conditions, causes and effects; individual friend-ships; individual study of conditions, wipe out racial prejudice, especially in children. Prejudices and antagonism are breeders of misunderstanding and hatred and of disrespect for American traditions and ideals.

It must be realized that adjustment

American traditions and ideals.

It must be realized that adjustment to a new environment must not be all on the part of the transplanted neighbors. To help the older American become readjusted to the presence of the newer racial groups in their midst and to inspire them to become well informed about them, is one of the greatest tasks of those who are trying to help in the building of a unified and co-operative nation.

The report on Civil Service, by Miss Marion C. Nichols, held unusually interesting information as to recent promation as to Clubs and officers, with addresses, will be in Part II for special lists.

Mrs. Boyd F. Bowies, corresponding secretary, reported in a very few words the immense amount of routine work that is the lot of her office. Besides attending all regular and Board meetings she has sent out invitations according to instructions, and over 10,000 tickets for conventions, adding that she has sent out more than the usual amount of mail, and placed the largest stationery order of the Club with the printer on June 26, 1928. She stated that eight new Clubs have been admitted to membership in the Federation, one affiliated organizations in the State Federation.

In the statement of finances, and as to the state of finances, it was interesting to note that annual dues from affiliated organizations amounted to nearly $7,000. With all expenses paid, the funds on May 1st were over $2900.00 in the general group. Mrs Davis has done a colossal piece of work well. Mrs. Lewis R. Hovey, director of the Tenth District, which comprises Merrimac Valley, has the pround distinction of representing a Club that has for membership 1,000—the Middlesex Club of Lowell. She has, too, the Club that is leading in the splendid enterprise of agitating for a clean river—the Merrimac—with a meeting called of officers of all surrounding Clubs by the West Newbury Woman's Club, resulting in definite work already accomplished.

Mrs. P. M. Lynch, in a report of eight typed pages of the magnificent accomplishments of the 14th District, of which she is director, might well have been telling of the works of the State Federation, for every field of activity was covered. In proof of many mighty works, the list was inspiring. One study Club financed a dental clinic in the public schools, planted trees, shrubs and flowers in public places, contributed books to hospitals and libraries, gave veterans, also, seeds for gardens, and contributed a prize for the best school yard in town. Among other Clubs there were sponsored debates, foreign-born mothers were entertained, and taught practically sewing, reading, and

The Holyoke Street Railway supplied the place, Mountain Park, at the foot of Mt. Newton had the honor of being represented by the Auburndale Woman's Club Chorus in this group of singers. The Thursday morning session (May 16th) was opened with greetings by Mrs. Walter A. The assembly was much touched, by this announcement from Mrs. Packard of the serious accident which has befallen the Federation's beloved hitorian. "But" said Mrs. Packard, "she with her indomitable courage says she is coming to the blennial council of the General Federation." A convention message of love and sympathy was dispatched.

In her greetings to the convention Mrs. Hall said that many times last year the present General Federation director, on the platform and in the press referred to Swampscott as the "Eden of Massachusetts." "We who lived here were at first a bit perturbed," said Mrs. Hall. "We always associated a serpent with the Garden of Eden, and although our town is unusually fine, it is made up of human beings, and we wondered if by chance, Mrs. Potter had discovered some of our weaknesses. However, knowing her characteristics of always seeing the best in everybody and realizing, too, that if some unpleasant condition had been forced upon her attention, her innate courtesy would have prevented her from mentioning it, we drew a long breath and decided that she referred to the scenic beauty of the place."

men good in the first place. If man were automatically good and could not help himself, that would be nothing but an automatic response to external conditions and not goodness at all. You have to achieve it from within or it is not goodness. God permits us freedom to work out our own goodness for ourselves.

God's purposes do not necessarily always coincide with our own, but there is something in the universe that responds to man, and to which man responds. Therefore, there is enough similarity between nature and mankind to make a great deal of the universe understandable to man.

Job's God does not minister to human desires, but is a God of impersonal reality, who teaches us to accept life maturely.

Man needs to be equipped to conquer evil. First, we must explain it, so as to be able to deal with it. Evil is not a quality of things as such, but of our relation to it. Pain in the abstract is meaningless. It is important only to those who suffer. Things are neutral. They are significant only as we experience them. The attitude of man toward things is something of great consequence.

A disinterested mind, harmonious with self and with reality, is greatly to be desired. Their disinterestedness means the higher interestedness, not in lower or temporal affairs, but in remote and eternal values.

What is virtue? It is some quality which cannot be depended on to work automatically. It transcends ordinary impulses. It is no virtue to eat when you are hungry, because you do that anyway. Courage is a virtue, because the impulse is, for some, to run away. For such people this particular virtue transcends immediate desires. Their first impulse is to some, the course of them to be courageous and fight trouble when it comes their way. It is, therefore, a virtue when they show any courage, because it is not something that they do anyway and by instinct, like eating when hungry.

There is no vice or virtue for the infant, because the impulse, which tend to make them respond to the obvious fragments of instant pleasure or pain ragments of instant pleasure or pain. Virtue appertains to remote rather than immediate results.

Where morals rest on the Bible, there is a definite and positive authority. Here is no problem of unbelief where the ancient tradition is alive. Those who do not trust the authority of the Bible have to find a new basis of virtues and morals, and that is a serious problem.

True insight is fruitful in high religion. Just what is high religion is not very obvious, but it is expected and intended to be an improvement on the ordinary popular religion. One suggestion is that morality should be disentangled from its metaphysical framework.

Popular religion is supposed to support the idea that the universe is governed by an external force. High religion puts some sort of responsibility for something on human beings. There is power inherent in the universe, inborn in man. Man is not, however, going it alone blindly. He

In the greatest businesses the tendency is to regard big responsibilities and extensive power as a sort of trust. Thus some problems relating to private property are approaching a solution.

Government is not superimposed on man. The real law is the multitude of little decisions made daily. Power to act and compel obedience is not centralized. Commands require inter-action in order to be fulfilled.

Class will resume its regular Sunaty morning meetings on the first Sunday in October, which will be October 6, 1929, at 9:50 a.m., at the New ton Centre Woman's Club House.

Prof. Kirtley F. Mather conducted the meeting last Sunday and took for the subject of his address, "The feel lust of Modernity" based on the third and last main division of Walter Lippman's new book, "A Preface to Morals."

With the dissolution of the ancient order of religion and ethics, people tend to look elsewhere for the foundation of their philosophy and a sait factory moral code.

There is a lot of irrational trouble in the world. If pain were a rational punishment, it would be comprehensible, but so much evil falls on the insecut, it becomes hard to understand. It is more than the condition of their philosophy and a sait factory moral code.

The infinite power of God seems to conflict with His infinite love. In the Old Testament His power is exalted at the expense of His goodness. Yahweh appears sometimes to be as capricious as an Oriental despot. In the 5th of 4th century B. C. the Book of Job emphasizes the fact that the goodness of Jehovah is too wonderful for man to understand. It is different from human goodness. Job determines to make the best of things as he finds them. What seems evil would be good if our minds were not so limited. The world is not conficted by man desires.

Fourth Fire In Objectionable Structure On California Street

Old Real Estate Office Destroyed-Object of Controversy for Long Time

The little building at 451 California street, Newtonville, which for a long-time has been a source of controversy between its owner, Peter Blake, the City of Newton and property owners in its neighborhood, was destroyed by fire at 4:45 Wednesday morning. The fire, the fourth to occur in the structure in about a month's time, was caused, according to the report of the Fire Department by Blake throwing kerosene on a fire.

The building, which was about 20 feet square and of flimsy construction was erected many years ago by the Adelman Real Estate Company to serve as a temporary office while the surrounding area was being sold for house lots by this concern. For many years the building was not used and it was appreciably damaged by boys and the weather. On July 11, 1922 the small lot of land on which the structure stood, together with the building, was sold by Aaron Adelman to persons named Dugan. A mortgage on the property was taken by Peter Blake, and his wife Mary Blake, of Watertown. About a year later the Blakes foreclosed the mortgage and build a garage under it. At a meeting of the Board of Aldermen on February 2nd, 1925, the petition was given leave to withdraw. On January 17, 1927 a similar petition was presented to the Board of Aldermen by the Blakes, This petition was presented to the Board of Aldermen by the Blake, and his wife may about 20 feet square and of flimsy construction was erected upon by the Board until the building be allowed to remain in its position near the street and be used at a dwelling.

On April 26 at 2.05 p. m., Hose 8 was called to the place to extinguish at fire. Neighbors telephoned the large the building, was sold by Determinent approached the mortgage and to the floor of the old spread to the floor, and the place to extinguish a fire in the building. According to

The lot, triangular in shape, and containing somewhat over 4000 square feet of land is peculiarly located. It is bounded on one of its sides by the Metropolitan Parkway Reservation which extends along the Charles River. It fronts on California street and on its third side it is bounded by a narrow right of way known as Parkway road. It is in a private residence zone so any building located on it must have a setback of 25 feet from any street. Several years ago the Metropolitan Commission discovered that the little dilapidated building was located nearer than 25 feet to the reservation and ordered Blake to move it. He obeyed the order and the structure was moved nearly to the street line on California street, which under the Zoning Ordinance of Newton is illegal. The building in the neighborhood, and standing on piles of ties, was an eyesore to the locality.

On January 19, 1925, the Blakes petitioned the Board of Aldermen for a waiver of the setback line so that he

The School Committee at its meeting on Monday night refused to allow the Wade School hall at Newton Upper Falls to be used by the Polish Women's Club of that village. The proceeds of a play to be presented were to be devoted to club uses and not to charity. The committee voted, on the request of the Playground Department, to allow the tennis courts at school grounds to be used by the public when not wanted by the pupils. The Playground Department asked permission to add a small parcel of land at the Stearns School to the little playground there. AN INTERESTING CONCERT

The final concert of the All Newton Music School's 18th year was given last Friday night.

The concerts of this School are steadily attracting larger audiences, and on this occasion the floor seats of Assembly Hall were practically filled by a very interested audience. The program represented each Department, Piano, Violin, 'Cello, Vocal, Choral and Ensemble; and filled two hours. So varied and full of interest was it that all remained to the end. The final number, Haydn's Symphony in D, played by the combined Senior Ensembles of both branches, was, perhaps the high light of the program, being an excellent, even brilliant, performance. The Director of the School insists that the success of the numbers played at the school's concerts under her leadership, is very largely due to the very excellent work done by the smaller groups, under Miss Forte, Mrs. Morgan and Miss Pucciarelli. All these groups contributed numbers to the program which bear out Miss Fyffe's judgement.

Eliot Church Presents Interesting

Affair

On last Saturday evening, in the beautiful gardens of the H. I. Harriman estate, $25 Centre street, beginning at the sunset hour and continuing through the early hours of the evening a very interesting and significant pageant, "The Spirit of Eliot Church" was presented.

The Pageant, which unfolded the history of this church, was compiled by Mrs. C. D. Kepner and staged under the direction of Miss Bessie M. Stratton, Director of Religious Education of the Eliot Church. The eighty-five years of history of the church formed a rich background for the Pageant, From the early days when John Eliot preached to the Indians in the forest, down through the burning of the Second Meeting House and the erection of the present Church building to the events of today, dramatic historical incidents and episodes were woven into a beautiful and stirring spectacle as varied and charming as the history of the church itself.

Over 200 people took part in the pageant. Especially effective was the decent of Chief Waban and his braves from a distant hill and their meeting with John Eliot and his friends. The dance of the flames and the ashes depicting the burning of the Second Meeting House, January 16, 1887, was perhaps the most artistic feature of the whole pageant.

The effective lighting, the excellent costuming together with the matchless outdoor setting combined to make this production one long to be remembered.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

SHOULD KEEP CHAMPIONSHIP

By defeating its arch rival, Brookline High, on the Newton Upper Falls playground Wednesday, 12 to 4, the Newton high school baseball team should retain the Suburban league championship which it won last year.
Bartlett Nichols was on the mound for the orange and black and although touched for twelve hits kept them well scattered with the exception of the seventh inning when a base on balls, a double and two singles brought in two of Brookline's runs. On the other hand the local team pounded out thirteen safe blows with seven of them bunched in the first and eighth frames to score eight of their runs.
Captain Allie Fletcher and Art Wilson led at the bat. Fletcher drew two passes and collected three hits, one a timely two-bagger in the eighth with the bases filled. Wilson poled out three two baggers in his six trips. Larkin was the heaviest Brookline batter with four hits in five attempts, one a two-base blow. Phil Andres donned the mitt and mask for the first time this season and played a goob game behind the bat. He coached Nichols along, in fine shape and helped him out of more than one hole.

Newton scored in the sixth when Nichols tripled to send in Fletcher who had drawn a pass. It made the thirteenth straight game in which Nichols has hit safely. Although Larkin and Woodlock singled in Brookline's half a strike-out, force play and an out at first prevented any score.

Newton went out in order in the seventh and Brookline scored twice. Nichols passed Noonan, the second of two passes he issued, and Murphy filed to Duane. O'Neill hit to left for two bases and Dexter singled to score Noonan.

Noonan.

O'Neil also tried to score but Elrod's peg came to Andres with a nice hop and O'Neil was out. Dexter took second on the throw home and scored on Larkin's third straight hit. The score was now 8 to 4.

Newton made the game certain with a fletcher moved to third. Nichols flied to right but Annese came through with a pass and moved to third off with a pass and moved to third on Wilson's third two-bagger into the left field swamp. Andres worked Noonan for a pass to fill the sacks. Fletcher cracked a Noonan pitch into left field for two bases and two runs came home. Andres tallied on a wild pitch for the third out in each frame.

EWING AND SINGORE PLACE AT BROWN

The Newton High school track team placed eighth in the annual Brown University interscholastics yesterday at Providence, scoring eight points. All of the orange and black's points were scored by Bob Ewing and Vincent Signore. The former placed second in the 100-yard dash while Signore won the two-mile run in 10 min. 37 3-5 seconds.

37 3-5 seconds.

It was the first time this season that the Newton sprinter has been beaten over the century distance in either a dual or interscholastic meet. Jones of Erasmus Hall, second place winners in the meet which went to Worcester academy by the huge total of 55 points, was the 100-yard dash winner and the first sprinter to defeat Ewing.

Newton will enter several teams in the State relay carnival at Fitchburg tomorrow which will mark the end of a very successful season.

In every game this season up to last Saturday, numbering eleven, Fletcher has hit safely at least once. Prior to Saturday's game with the Watch City nine, Fletcher was boasting a 4.67 average but Pendergast set it back quite a few notches, in fact it dropped to .420, which incidentally is quite some mark for an even ly is quite some mark for an ever dozen games. On his first trip to the plate Fletcher was fanned and on the next topped a slow bounder to Pendergast. His third attempt was a pop fly to the shortstop, who by the way also made the other two putouts of the fifth inning on similar popups, and on his other two appearances at bat the Newton leader hit grounders to short and second. On three of Fletcher's times at bat there was a runner on base in position to score. Fletcher cannot be exto score. NEW TRAFFIC TOWER AT

Thursday and Friday afternoons might have been avoided.

Last year a traffic signal was installed in Newtonville on Washington street at the intersection of Walnut street. Advice was given to the "experts" to place the control-box, from which this tower is operated by the traffic-officer during the rush periods, by the span of the bridge over the Boston & Albany tracks. This advice was ignored. The control-box was placed on Washington street in front of Central Block and around the corner from Walnut street so that the traffic-officer cannot see traffic approaching along Walnut street from the north. When the results of this error became evident the Traffic Committee of the Board of Aldermen recommended to the Board that the control-box be changed in location to the site by the bridge. The recommendation was accepted. But, the recommendation of the Traffic Committee and the vote of the Board were ignored and the control-box remains where it was first placed. It is estimated that it will be a supplementation of the Board were ignored and the control-box remains where it was first placed.

oringe. The recommendation was accepted. But, the recommendation of the Traffic Committee and the vote of the Board were ignored and the control-box remains where it was first placed. It is estimated that it will cost $800 to move it.

Following the evidencing of "expertness" in connection with the traffic signal at Newtonville, the GRAPHIC, last year suggested that to avoid similar errors at Nonantum square, the advice was not sought. Anyone who witnessed the tangles at Nonantum square last Thursday and Friday knows the result.

The control of traffic is one of the biggest problems confronting municipalities today. Newton, in common with most cities has a group of men designated to assist in solving traffic problems in this city. This group, the Traffic Committee of the Board of Aldermen, should either be called upon to function more than it has the past couple of years, or be abolished. Had this committee been called upon to co-operate in the matter of advice on the arrangement of signals at the Nonantum square traffic-tower, in conjunction with Newton Corner business men, it is probable the tower would now be operating successfully.

The final meeting before the summer vacation of the Executive Board of the Newton Federation was held in the library of the Newton High School at 2:30 o'clock on Tuesday, May 28th.

(With apologies to Shakespeare.)

In years gone by Newtonians were wont to boast of the "sand-papered" streets of this city. Gone are those haleyon years. For many summers, Yea also for many springs and autumns the streets of this burg have ceased to have the appearance, or feel of having been sandpapered. When automobiles became sufficiently numerous on our highways to seriously damage the macadamized surfaces which proved so satisfactory in the days previous to the automobile era, tar preparations were poured upon the highways to prevent the macadamized surfaces from destruction by the suction of rubber tires on motorcar wheels. For some years no appreciable bother resulted from the use of this treatment. But, for years past the advent of warm weather annually has meant for residents of this city the plague of soft, sticky, tarry streets. Whether the successive application of tar through the years has over-saturated the highways in Newton with the viscuous subtance, or whether more suitable material should be used we do not know. We have heard both reasons attributed.

But, one thing is certain. Of all the Pythons, many of them 15 feet long, who are among the guests of the Lon-don zoo, spend most of their time submerged in the water of the moat surrounding the enclosure. A few of the inhabitants of the park, especially the cobras, become cannibals, and attack and devour not only various harmless species, but also some of their most poisonous relations. UNDER THE GILDED DOME

This year's General Court is abiding by the custom of previous years and leaving the most important legislation of the session to the last. It is confidently expected that prorogation will be reached next week, although it is never safe to make any prophecies if one is expected to pay any wager. Nobody is rash enough to bet, or if he does bet he certainly stands to lose for there is really no telling until within 24 hours of the actual time. However, it doesn't make any difference as far as that goes and the principal interest the public has is to have the right kind of laws passed and the wrong kind repealed.

When the House first received the Senate bill continuing public control of the Boston Elevated it rejected it and all other measures affecting the future of the road. That was last week Thursday. Suddenly it changed front and last Monday followed the advice of Speaker Saltonstall and revived the matter. It passed to be engrossed on Tuesday a bill providing for the return of the road to private control in 1932 and for a referendum to the voters on the question of public ownership at the State election in 1930. Then the measure was sent to the Senate. There were two roll calls last Thursday. One was on the question of public ownership and Representatives Baker and Thompson against. On the roll call Thursday of last week on returning the road to private control Mr. Luitwieler voted for it and Messrs. Baker and Thompson against. There was a roll call last Monday in the House on the question of amending the private control bill by providing for a referendum to the voters of the district served by the road on the question of whether or not they wish for public ownership. Representatives Daker and Thompson against. There was a roll call last Monday in the House on the question of amending the private control bill by providing for a referendum amendment and Representatives Baker and Thompson voted for the referendum amendment and Representative Baker against.

There is to be no sale of the old muster field at Framingham for aviation purposes—at least not this year. The Senate has rejected a bill providing for the selling of part of the ground and establishing a town board to control the property. It would no doubt seem strange to many, including Newton people, to have the famous old Framingham muster field turned into a privately owned aviation enterprise. Newton people remember the muster days and former members of the National Guard can tell numerous interesting tales of the old field.

Meat Not Exclusive Food of Red Indians

Among all the American Indians there were no pure hunter tribes. In the north portion of the continent the diet was three-fourths animal food, in the southern part it was three-fourths vegetable, and with the tribes of the coast, mountains, takes and plains it varied according to the food supply. As a rule the Indian women were cooks of considerable ingenuity and contrary to popular belief the Indians preferred cooked food. They were good at husbandry and after drying their vegetables they sometimes built granaries wherein to store them. Ani-mal food was often dried or frozen, but sometimes was smoked. Fruits were pulped or dried. Nuts were often ground before being stored, as were also maize, grass seeds and the legumes. Potatoes and squashes fre-quently were stored in holes dug be-The Indians neath the frost line. The Indians liked salt to flavor their dishes and obtained it sometimes by evaporating the water from salt springs and some-times by taking the crystals from salt lakes and caves. Many of them were fond of chewing gum, which they got from spruce trees. Savors, flavors and condiments were valued highly.— Detroit News.

Fortune Had Part in Doubling of "Talent"

A Sunday school teacher, after telling the class the parable of the talents. gave each boy a dime, explaining that they were to use their capital during the week and report on the following Sunday how much they had made. "Now, then," he said to the first

The boy produced 20 cents and the teacher was delighted.
"Splendid!" he exclaimed, then turned to the second boy.

"And how much have you brought?"
"Nothing, sir." The teacher's expression changed. "There, you see," he told the class. "George has used his talent and brought one talent more, while Jimmy has lost the talent he had."

He turned sternly to Jimmy.

Old American Flag
In 1775 a committee, under Benjamin Franklin as chairman, designed the first flag of the United Colonies. This is said to have been the first officially known as the Grand Union flag, and the king's colors, the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew, in the blue canton. The presence of these crosses in the blue field meant that the Colonies were fighting for their rights as English men. It has been called a "flag not of separation but of protest." In those days it was often designated as the congress colors, or the Cambridge flag, and was officially known as the Grand Union flag, and is said to have been designed by Washing ton.

Macaroni and other pastes are considered typical and peculiarly Italian food, and Italy is probably entitled to the credit for her early appreciation of these foods. However, history credits their first use among the Chinese and their European introduction to the Germans. The Italians are said to have learned the art of making them from the latter. History shows that by the time of the Fourteenth century Italy was the only European nation enjoying macaroni.

Many people have a decided preju-dice against seiling dogs. Some go so far as to regard the sale of a dog as positively sinful. One elderly as positively sintul. One elderly woman, says the Pathfinder Magazine, severely condemned a man who en-gaged in the business of raising shepherd dogs for the market. She branded his business as sinful and protested against her church accept-ing contributions of his "tainted" The origin of this prejudice is not

The origin of this prejudice is not known for certain. It may be based on the old Hebraic Scriptural teachings. Deuteronomy 23:18 says in part: "Thou shalt not bring... the price of a dog into the house of the Lord thy God for any vow." Many commentators, accepting "dog" here in the literal sense, state that Moses declared dogs unclean and prohibited traffic in them.

Others take a different view of the passage. They say that "dog" here passage. They say that "dog" here does not refer to the animal, but to a person who has prostituted himself by committing any abominable action. This opinion receives some confirmation from the context, especially the preceding verse. In Palestine the dog was looked upon with loathing and aversion, as filthy and unclean. This animal is mentioned in the Bible more than forty times and, with few exceptions, it is mentioned with contempt to remark either its voracious in stincts, its fierceness or its loath-

Medici Family Crest Now Pawnbroker Sign

America there are but few shop signs reminiscent of an old day. The one most in use is that of the pawn-broker and his sign of three globes With this is connected a varying and interesting background.

Averado de Medici was a commander of fighting men under the great Charlemagne. During the course of his battles on behalf of his overlord he met and slew the giant Mugello. As the spoil of war, he took the giant's club, to which for effective service in action were affixed three iron balls swinging upon a short chain. It can readily be understood that a well-placed blow from such a club in the hands of an angry giant would certainly, to use slang, "make the birdies sing," and the three effective additions to the club would complete the picture. Therefore, Averado might well have added the three globes to the family crest. In later years the Medici took to the gentle but effective art of poisoning and as a side line en-gaged in the business of loaning money, using the memory of Mugello's battle-ax fixtures as their insignia .-Kansas City Star.

Substitutes for Gold

Perhaps all the world isn't strug-gling for gold and silver, but it is only because those precious metals aren't known in some of the out-of-the-way spots-and even there a substitute is

In the South Sea islands, for in stance, porpoise teeth strung around a native's head indicate his wealth, recounts the Farm Journal. On the Island of Yap the rich man is known the number of cartwheel stones Indies and throughout a large part of Africa beads and shells are used for money, and in the Polar regions, where fishing is the chief source of liveli-hood, fishhoeks are a principal medium Mrs. Wil of exchange.

Siamese Currency

It takes 100 satang to make a baht, the latter being the equivalent of 0.66567 grams of fine gold. The baht, sometimes just bat, is also the unit of weight. Eighty baht equal one chang, and 50 chang equal one haph. One eighth of a baht is called a fuang, and two fuang are a salung. There are also wahs, kups and niews, as well as sens, yotes, tanhs and tanans. Twenty tanans formerly equaled half a coco-nut shell. You will have to keep that all straight in your mind if you have financial intercourse with Siam. But remember especially that the tical is now out of use officially as a money unit.—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

Various "Complexes"

The word "complex" is used by many modern psychologists and alleged psychologists to denote a group of ideas and feelings which are monothilly associated with the complex of the co leged psychologists to denote a group of ideas and feelings which are mentally associated with a certain subject. For instance, they would say that Napoleon had a "conquest complex." Usually, but not always, the ideas and feelings are supposed to be repressed. A person is said to have an "inferiority complex" when he inherently feels himself incapable of doing certain things. The opposite state or attitude of mind is termed a "superiority complex."—Pathfinder Magazine.

"Height of Land"

This is another name for watershed, water parting or divide, the line of separation between the basins of two adjacent rivers, lakes or drainage valeys, from which streams flow in opposite directions. In Minnesota there is a small take of this name, from which streams find their way to the Red river of the North and to the Mississippi. by Chauncey's Tales
During an Atlantic voyage Chauncey Depew was entertaining a group of friends one evening in the smoking room with some of his inimitable stories. Naturally, the listeners showed their sense of amusement, with one solitary exception. This man maintained an aspect of indifference, and, indeed, almost of gloom.
Mr. Depew, of course, could not help observing this and was prompted to trot out even additional anecdotes.
But in vain, at least with regard to the melancholy man. At last Mr. De pew railled him by saying:

"Well, Mr.—, won't you contrib-te something to our cheerfulness?" The man thus addressed, pretending to heave a heavy sigh, replied:
"Well, I have been ruminating a bit

as to what constitutes the difference between me and a turkey; and I have come to the conclusion that it's just this—that a turkey hasn't got to be stuffed with chestnuts until after he is dead "—Kansas City Star.

Fealty to Her "Folks" Old "Mammy's" Passion

Unswerving fealty to her "white folks" was an outstanding characteristic of the old-time "mammy." The instances are many where even after her emancipation she remained with the family to which she had belonged to succeeding generations. She only waited on "Old Miss" during and closed her eyes when she fell asleep in death, but she was present at the birth of all the ability of the state. at the birth of all the children and helped to rear them, and mayhap to perform the same office for the grandchildren and great-grandchildren. When "Young Miss" was married "mammy" usually exercised her pre-rogative of being the first to kiss the bride and "mammy's" osculatory evidence not only was sincere and genu-ine, but it was regarded as good luck. Often "mammy's" own "white folks became financially embarrassed and lost everything, but "mammy" did not desert them. On the other hand, she invariably stuck to them through thick and thin and was willing to share any reverses to which they might be subjected. Hers was a de-votion that was strong and lasting.

Her "white folks" might forgive an enemy, but "mammy" never forgot or forgave one who wronged any of her people. Often she took the family name with which she was so long

Perpetual motion has never been successfully demonstrated. The views of the Patent office are in accord with those of the scientists who have in-vestigated the subject, and are to the effect that mechanical perpetual mo-tion is a physical impossibility. These tion is a physical impossibility. These views can be rebutted only by the ex-hibition of a working model. Many persons have filed applications for patents on perpetual motion, but such applications have been rejected as in-operative and opposed to well-known physical laws, and in no instance has the requirement of the Patent office for a working model ever been com-

Farther Still

An Irishman and a Scot found themselves seated side by side at a certain Christmas club dinner and each tried to impress the other with the distance he had traveled.

After much discussion the Irishman admitted that he had sailed the Seven seas amongst other trifles, and that he had been to the end of the world. "An' what did ye see there?" asked the Scot.

Skyscrapers' Value

The Greeks probably were the first to build roofed structures of exten sive area, for they are credited with sive area, for they are credited with the first use of wooden beams. The Romans made the erection of build ings with even greater area possible by use of the arch and dome. The de-velopment of the steel I-beam made really high buildings possible. Our present-day builders have developed skyscraper construction to a degree where valuable ground space can be completely utilized by the erection of a tall building of extensive floor space

The young traveler could not help but smile.

Variation of "Quoits"

The game of horseshoes is based on quoits, which is a pastime resembling the ancient discus-throwing of Greece. Few traces of a game resembling quoits can be found on the continent of Europe and its origin may be sought for on the borderlands of Scotland and England. There are references to it in the Midlands, dating from the beginning of the Fifteenth century. Ascham, in his Toxophilus (1545), refers to the game as being played chiely by the working classes, who often used horseshoes for want of quoits, a custom still prevailing in country districts.

A Wee Bit Tune

A millionaire who wrote a rather tillegible hand took a "place" in the north of Scotland. One night before teiling he sent the head keeper detailed written instructions for the morrow.

Next morning he was awakened very early by the persistent skirling of bagpipes beneath his window. Summoning his man-servant, he asked: "What's that racket?"

"Oh' said the man. "that's Donald, the keeper, playing that wee bit tune ye sent him last night."

Wit of Conversation

The wit of conversation consists more in finding it in others, than in showing a great deal yourself. He who goes out of your company, pleased with his own facetiousness and ingenuity, will the sooner come into the again. Most men had rather please than admire you, and seek less to be instructed and diverted than-approved and applauded, and it is certainly the belicate sort of pleasure, to please another.—Franklin.

Whitmore Wins Another

Whitmore Wins Another

Howard Whitmore was forced to twirl eleven innings last Friday before his teammates could push over the run Harvard needed to defeat Dartmouth 6 to 5, in a thrilling game. The former Newton star held the Green batters to seven hits in the eleven frames he worked and then gave way to a pinch hitter in the last of the final inning. Whitmore's pitching was good enough to defeat the Hanoverites in the regulation distance but infield errors prolonged the contest allowing the visitors to tie it up. Whitmore fanned seven, passed one and hit one batter. The seven bingles were four singles, a two-bagger, three-bagger and a homer. Leftfielder Whitney of the Harvard team saved another home run and the game by a remarkable catch in the tenth inning. Tommy Gilligan made one nice catch in right field. After three Harvard runs were scored in the first inning Gilligan singled to keep the rally going and sending Whitney to third. Whitney scored on the next batter's hopper which Rolfe threw away but Gilligan was stranded on third when Whitmore fanned.

to keep the battle on even terms. In cast it among the unenlightened which would include, of course, every one with aspirations of a political nature.

As I understand it this sage advice was given without urging. Instead of wasting time in answering the trivial query as to whether he was to again be a candidate for the position. His Honor swept that unimportant urgestion to one side and went right to the meat of things. It showed consideration for the other fellow inasmuch as it made clear a path that had hereto fore seemed somewhat obscured. No such revelation has been made in my experience as a political writer. I have consulted men, longer by far in the game than I, and they assure me that no one had intimated such a thing.

Personally I have already applied the lesson. Not that I shall be a candidate for office, but that when a question is asked me I shall stripe to say something more than "Yes" or "No". Taking a tip from our Burgomster I handled a delicate situation the other day, very nicely, in my own opinion.

A friend of mine said, "I lent you a book and you promised to return it a month ago. Have you lost it?" Into, twy don't you give it back?"

My answer was, "I think the New ton Free Library is one of the best in the country".

It must be that men are shy. In fact I am ready to believe they are the shyer sex. They show it, I believe, in many ways but no more countingly than in the matter of dress. You haven't noticed any marked changes in what men wear, have you? Styles in clothing, hats, shoes and neckwear remain much nearer what they were 50 years ago than those of the women. I am confident it is always the source of humor. NORUMBEGA DISTRICT SUNDAY

Plans are under way for at least two Daily Vacation Church Schools in the District—one at Newtonville, where Miss Priscilla Lantz will be dithe District—one at Newtonville, where Miss Priscilla Lantz will be director, and one at Watertown. These Vacation Church Schools have the unique opportunity for continuous impact of day-after-day contact with the children, without six days intervening between lessons, as is the case in Sunday Schools. They also have time for a varied program, worship, play, stories, classwork, handwork, etc., making the school interesting to children and providing for actual "practice in Christian living" under carefully guided auspices.

The Norumbega District is cooperating with the Greater Boston Institute for Vacation School workers, six Saturday afternoons in May and June, by providing the services of the District Secretary as teacher in the Institute. Mrs. Myron C. Settle of

RECENT EVENTS

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

Beauty certainly greeted the eye as one entered the Workshop of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands on Wednesday, May 22nd, to view the first Flower Show of the Club, sponsored by Mrs. Harris P. Gray and her Committee (Conservation and Garden). It was a rare treat and surprise to the community to find such an exquisite display of flowers, which were grown and most artistically arranged by the exhibitors, all of whom are Club members.

There were four classes of exhibits.

grown and most artistically arranged by the exhibitors. all of whom are Club members.

There were four classes of exhibits, namely Class 1—artistic arrangement of flowers in a suitable container, flowers not necessarily grown by exhibitors; Class 2—an arrangement of spring flowers grown by exhibitor; Class 3—dinner or luncheon table set for four; Class 4—special distinction. Three prizes consisting of a gift and ribbons were awarded to each class. Mrs. Edgar E. Smith won the first and third prizes in class one, and Mrs. Elizabeth S. Newton the second. Of class two Mrs. B. W. Godsoe received the first prize, Mrs. E. A. Dusossoit second and Mrs. Donald D. McKay the third. The first prize of class three went to Mrs. Cyrus Kaufman, the second to Mrs. A. G. Caldwell was also awarded the prize for "Special Distinction."

Mrs. Ward I. Cornell, the Club president, had a most distinctive and artistic decoration for the mantel over the fireplace, adding much to the atmosphere. The Garden and Conservation Committee donated a hammered brass vase which was the first prize for Class one. Mrs. J. B. Studley gave a large yellow glass vase as first prize for Class two. Mrs. Frank L. Richardson gave a beautiful plece of Italian pottery as first prize for

There were sixty-three exhibits and the judges were Mrs. Elsie K. Chamberlain, Miss Florence Maynard, and Mr. A. P. Calder. Mrs. Chamberlain remarked that every exhibit deserved honorable mention.

The Show far exceeded expectation, and many were the exclamations and gratifying remarks heard on all sides. Words seem inadequate to express the charm of the gorgeous display.

It was very gratifying to the Committee to have the keen interest and co-operation of the exhibitors and public, which went far towards the splendid success of this the Club's first Flower Show.

ANNUAL MEETING. The account of the Annual Meeting held at Swampscott on May 15th-17th, ended in last week's Column with the close of the scott on May 15th-17th, ended in last week's Column with the close of the morning session on Thursday, the 16th. Resolutions read at that time by Mrs. Robert J. Culbert, chairman of this Department, included those adopted in regard to Katherine Lee Bates, and the first reading of some to be presented to the Biennial Council, which were adopted on Friday. All may as well be listed here, for they may be of value for future reference to Clubwomen.

Homage to the late Katherine Lee Bates, author of "America the Beautiful" which has been adopted as the national Clubwoman's song, was paid in resolutions; adopted unanimously, voicing the esteem in which Miss Bates has been held by the Women's Clubs of the United States, prompting an expression of appreciation for her perpetual gift of the words of their official song "America the Beautiful," enlarging as it does the vision of the country as a whole. Also in appreciation of her unfailing generosity of time and thought and her interest in Club work, the resolution extended sympathy for a mutual loss to her relatives and to Wellesley College which she served so long.

The group of 11 resolutions to be presented at the General Federation Biennial Council the last week of May are briefly summed up as follows:

1. A recommendation to President Hoover for the appointment of qualified women to administrative posi-

1 A recommendation to President Hoover for the appointment of qualified women to administrative positions. This is proposed by Mrs. John F. Sippel, national president.

2. A resolve urging the study of cultural and domestic problems of the countries of the western hemisphere in the interest of world peace.

3. Proposal by Mrs. John D. Sherman, chairman of the American Home, that the Sunday before Thanksgiving be designated as American Home Day, asking co-operation of the clergy.

4. Support of the proposed plan for a national university at Washington.

5. Recommendation that the General Federation go on record favoring the sabbatical leave plan in elementary and secondary schools, now in successful operation in many States.

6. Endorsement of the principle of the plan for preservation of the scenery along the Potomac river and the proposed establishment of the George Washington Memorial Parkway.

7. Endorsement of the project to promote American art at the All-American Exhibition of Sculpture in San Francisco.

8. Recommendation of a protest against tariff on objects of art.

9. Sponsorship of National Authors' lay on November first next, in connection with Book Week.

10. Protest against the use of outdoor advertising in scenic spots. Recommendation that the Gen day on November first next, in connection with Book Week.

10. Protest against the use of outdoor advertising in scenic spots.

11. Endorsement of the proposed additional appropriation for the use of the Indian Bureau.

A note of interest Thursday morning, also was the change of name which will apply to the Department of Social and Industrial Conditions another year, entitling this work Social Welfare. By this token, says Mrs. Albert Bradley Carter, State chairman, no one will have the temptation to think that social conditions might possibly, by chance, apply to a social cup of tea.

Presentation of a $20 gold piece to Mrs. Paul M. White of Arlington Woman's Club for the best of 43 Club stories submitted in the recent contest of the Department of Press and Publicity, was the leading feature in the luncheon of this Department Thursday in the new Colonial room of the New Ocean House. Miss Carolyn J. Peck, of Wellesley Hills, chairman, who presided, made the award to Mrs. White, whose article was entitled "The Salvage Bureau."

So excellent were many of the stories it became necessary for the judges to select seven to whom were given "honorable mention," and even then the entire Committee were not in accord as to the order of excellence, so that the list does not represent the order in which the stories ranked; Mrs. Percy F. Wheaton, of the Manchester Woman's Club, for her story on "Adopting a Veteran"; Miss Mary Davis, of the Clinton Woman's Club, or her story "Finding the Common Denominator of Friendliness"; Mrs. Charlotte Judd Innis, of the Shelburne Falls Woman's Club, for her story "A Bridge of Flowers"; Mrs. W. O. B. Little, of the West Roxbury Woman's Club, for her "History of a Club Program"; Mrs. Nelson Bearse, of the Barnstable Woman's Club, for her story "Villiage Hall"; Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, of the Auburndale Review Club, for her story of the Club's programs for the year, entitled "Innovations"; and Mrs. J. G. Shaw, of the Thought and Work Club of Salem, for her "Stroll Through Memory Lane."

The luncheon attracted some 150 of the convention delegates who are interested in the business of spreading the news. Guests of honor included: Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, Mrs. Azel A. Packard, Mrs. Frederick G. Smith, Mrs. John H. Kimball of Danvers, Miss Gwendoline Albee and Miss Alice F. Titus, each of whom brought brief greetings.

The informal program centered around the active radio publicity, conducted by the Federation, under the direction of Mrs. Leon E. White, of

Chestnut Hill. Mrs. White presented Ralph Leroy Harlow, general manager of WNAC who touched upon the radio angle of Federation broadcasts; Robert Burlen of WEEI, well-known for his "Buddy and Blake" sketches; and Linus Travers, production manager of WNAC, who told how broadcasts are staged. Jean Sargent, formerly of this same station who has recently Joined the Columbia system staff in New York, sent her familiar salutation, "Greetings everybody!"

The afternoon session opened in Convention Hall with the report on Co-operation with War Veterans—work that is being so ably handled by Mrs. Paul A. Peters. Instead of looking back over the past year, she asked for the same hearty support in the coming one. Cases in the hospitals do not decrease, and will not for many years, so that women must "carry on," in gifts and attentions, such as entertainments, playing cards with the boys, gifts of candy, tobacco, pipes, cigarettes, writing paper, postcards, playing cards stamps, new books, subscriptions to new books—just the little things one would do for their own at a hospital. Especially she pleaded for money, for the hospitals, Legion, Auxiliary, the store on Boylston street, all of whom know they can call on this Committee in emergency and receive response. Think what this sentence means, and the satisfaction it may well be to the women of the State Federation!

Mrs. Peters made more than one listener's eyes sting when she told of the aid extended in such timely fashion in two cases—one a little home, where the money was gone, a family of six, four of them children, and hungry, and too proud to ask for aid. How she found them she did not explain, but that they were found, and that money was on hand in the State for the emergency proves what the Clubwomen should do in response to her appeal. In the other case the man had been laid off from work, was behind in his rent, and expecting back compensation. He was loaned a little money, and when his compensation touches and effects every phase of our living. The beauty of our money, and soon secured work. That he appreciated and was honest was evidenced.

"Conservation touches and effects every phase of our living. The beauty of our surroundings, the attractiveness of our towns, the loveliness of our scenic highways are all wrapped up in the package Conservation," said Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, chairman of Conservation of Natural Resources. Then she enumerated among the "memorable accomplishments" of the year the establishing of sanctuaries, parks created, waste places made useful, garden clubs formed, and school children's activities started. For Summer interests she recommended the organizing of young people for fire patrols, with prizes for the greatest number discovered or extinguished; and the same idea for freeing roadsides from picnic rubbish and the destruction of caterpillar nests. She revealed the really thrilling project for next year—the purchase of a State reservation. Having saved the "Old Man of the Mountain," and contributed to "Fair Monadnock," she bespeaks equal enthusiasm for contributions either by Clubs or individuals for a beauty spot in our own Massachusetts, worthy to be set aside for use and pleasure to stand as a memorial of the State Federation. The time limit for these contributions to the treasurer, Mrs. Frederick S. Davis, 146 Massachusetts avenue, Boston, is April 15, 1930. A Committee, with Mrs. Packard serving on it, will decide the particular location for this Memorial Forest.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Most of the independently owned stores in the Newtons, including the grocery and provision stores affiliated with the "Suburban Service Stores" and stores whose owners are members of the Newton Business Associates will close Wednesday afternoons during June, July and August. The purpose of this closing is to afford the owners and employees of these stores an opportunity to enjoy a half-day each week for recreation. Chain grocery stores and chain markets throughout the Newtons will not close Wednesday afternoons. Officials of these chain-store organizations stated that the "employees of these stores voted to accept a week's vacation rather than take an afternoon off each week during the summer months." Employees of independently owned stores in this city are given two week's vacation in addition to the Wednesday afternoon off, with pay.

A large percentage of working peo-

who appreciate better working condi-tions for those who toil, desire to show their approval of the action of store proprietors in closing Wednes-day afternoons during the hot weath-er, no shopping will be done in this city on Wednesday afternoons during the next three months. ODAY'S Commander has swept to popularity which eclipses even that of its illustrious predecessor—the world-famous Commander which sped 25,000 miles in 22,968 minutes.

Its style is outstanding in any company of cars. Swung low on a costlier double-drop frame, its sweeping lines suggest at a glance the performance which enabled Studebaker to win every official speed and endurance record for fully equipped stock cars.

The comfort The Commander offers you today was unknown until Studebaker introduced ball bearing spring suspension ... and enhanced it by new-type hydraulic shock absorbers.

No matter how many cars of similar cost you may drive after your first turn at the wheel of a Commander, you will never forget the thrill of its champion performance. May we send you a Commander to drive today?
